SHATTERED TANK—Charles Zastrow, maintenance superintendent of the Point Reyes Water Co., waded today among the remains of a 30,000 gallon wooden water tank that collapsed in Point Reyes Station yesterday. High Wind, Downpours Predicted For Tonight

So Far, Damage Is Mostly On Highways

Occasional heavy rainfall which hit Marin County yesterday gathered force today as a massive Pacific storm was reported bearing down on the Bay Area and due here late this afternoon.

Warnings of gale winds up to 50 miles per hour were being posted in the area as the storm center, 500 miles to the southwest this morning, gathered strength and continued to move toward Marin and the North Coast region.

The advance fringe of the storm caused a rash of highway accidents in the county, dropped 2.5 inches of rain and added 100 million gallons to the Kent Lake reservoir's water storage.

While the new storm is expected to bring the heaviest rainfall this season, the watershed is already ahead of last year with 7.5 inches having fallen to date compared to 6.6 inches at this time in 1965, according to William R. Seeger, Marin Municipal Water District general manager.

CIVIC CENTER LEAKS

Both Pacific Telephone and Telegraph and Pacific Gas and Electric reported service unaffected anywhere in the county by the rains.

Things were a little less smooth at Civic Center, where the plastic dome sprang leaks as fast as crews could patch them. County Bldg. Supt. Leslie Wider said this situation would probably continue until the roof is put on the new hall of justice, at which time the existing roof will be sprayed with a waterproofing compound.

The California Highway Patrol reported 13 highway accidents, six involving injuries, in the county in the 24 hours ending at 9 a.m. today. The rain was blamed for the higher incidence.

STORM FORECAST

The advancing storm will bring heavy rain to the Bay Area through tomorrow afternoon, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau, and snow at the 4,000 to 6,000-foot level in the Sierra Nevadas.

Rainfall in the past 24 hours was reported twice as heavy in Marin as in San Francisco and East Bay Counties.

In San Rafael, 1.62 inches fell in the 24-hour period ending at noon today. The seasonal total for San Rafael was 2.45 inches compared to 4.08 inches to date last year and an average annual fall of 4.04 for the date.

Other Marin rain figures for the 24 hours ending at 8 a.m. today were: Bolinas, .30 inches; Mill Valley, .65; Tamalpais Valley, .62; Sausalito, .64; Larkspur, .80; San Anselmo, 1.05; Terra Linda, .60; Novato, .27; Santa Venetia, 1.20.

Tank Collapse Deluges West Marin Street

By PAT PERRY

An ancient wooden water tank collapsed in Point Reyes Station yesterday, sending 30,000 gallons of water and splintered lumber thundering down Shoreline Highway.

The community was without water until nearly noon yesterday, although West Marin School, located directly opposite the tank, switched to an alternate supply.

Mike Bauman's basement on Manana Road was still flooded today as angry residents sent off a letter to the California Public Utilities Commission in Sacramento demanding an investigation of the local water company.

"Our town faces real fire and health hazards," said the protest, signed by Dr. Leslie R. Webber, John S. Mason, Donald De Wolfe, Owen Potter, and Mrs. Lawrence Arndt, the local citizens water committee.

Two 30,000-gallon water tanks, both constructed from wood in hooped barrel style, were housed on a hillside above the school, under a shed.

The shed and the oldest water tank both collapsed yesterday. Mrs. Evelyn Fillipini, who lives next door, described the noise as "an explosion. I thought it was a sonic boom."

James J. Downey, owner of the water company, said in San Francisco, he didn't know about the tank's collapse until today, although workmen started clearing up the debris yesterday.

"I don't know what the plans are for replacing the tank. My son takes care of that," said

KITTY'S RESCUER HAS PROBLEMS OF HIS OWN

A meow-ing cat drove Larry Lawson, 20, up a tree in San Geronimo Valley last night.

It sounded so sad in all that wind and rain that Lawson thought he would rescue it from the high branches near his home on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Thirty feet up, Lawson got stuck. It grew darker and colder. Soon it was his turn to cry for help.

For four hours, no one heard him. He rattled the branches, shouted or just sat, soaking in the rain.

At 10:36 p.m. someone did hear him and called Marin County Fire Department. Fire Warden George Thornton went up a ladder and brought him down.

Lawson was tired, hungry and wet — but otherwise unharmed.

And where was pussy all this time? "I guess in all the excitement we forgot about the cat," said Thornton.

Supervisors Promise Mental Center Tax

Marin County supervisors today adopted a resolution saying they will order a maximum of $100,000 to be raised through property taxes next fiscal year to close any fund gap in financing of the $1.4 million community mental health center to be built at Marin General Hospital.

Supervisor Chairman Byron W. Leydecker also suggested a second alternative on the operation of the proposed center, saying perhaps the county should contract with the hospital district for the management.

Already under study is transfer of the duties of the present director of the mental health services to the county medical officer, with a director of the new unit to be appointed by the hospital district.

East Germany Crash Fatal To Americans

COMBINED AP & UPI

BERLIN — A Pan American cargo jet flying mail to West Berlin crashed in Communist territory outside West Berlin in predawn darkness today and the East German news agency ADN reported its three crewmen were killed.

The crash was reported to U.S. officials here by Soviet authorities. The original report gave no account of the plane's pilot, copilot and navigator.

The three-jet Boeing 727, flying from Frankfurt through the East German air corridors, came down about eight miles from its destination in this Communist-surrounded city. A Berlin postal official said it carried 7.1 tons of mail in unsealed bags.

The terse ADN dispatch from East Berlin said: "The commission investigating the crash reported that the crew of the crashed plane was killed. Three bodies were recovered."

Pan American in Berlin said it was withholding identifica-

Successful Program Ends In Historic Four-Day Flight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —The Gemini 12 astronauts parachuted to a pinpoint landing in the Atlantic's fabled Sargasso Sea today, climaxing four record-shattering days in space and triumphantly ending America's Gemini program.

The sensational space adventure reached a blazing climax when Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. Edwin E. (Buzz) Aldrin Jr. plunged back through the atmosphere and splashed into the sea at 2:20 p.m.

"We've got you on the boob tube," mission control exclaimed when the spacecraft was spotted by television cameras coming down.

"Smike, you're on the tube."

The Sargasso Sea, once feared by mariners as a graveyard of ships because of floating seaweed, held no dangers for Gemini 12.

Generally clear skies and gently rolling waves greeted Lovell and champion space walker Aldrin as they brought the Gemini program to a thrilling climax within range of television cameras aboard the main recovery ship, the aircraft carrier Wasp.

The cameras picked up Gemini 12 as it drifted to earth, dangling beneath its large orange-and-white parachute. The dramatic pictures were relayed live to U.S. television sets via the Early Bird communications satellite.

It was the fourth straight time that a Gemini craft had landed within camera range of a recovery vessel. The splashdown was about 700 miles southeast of Cape Kennedy, where Gemini 12 started the historic journey last Friday.

Gemini 12 splashed down between 2½ and three miles from the Wasp.

Helicopters from the carrier were overhead within seconds and frogmen were deployed to attach a flotation collar.

It was a successful end to a flight in which Lovell and Aldrin pushed man's exploration of space to new horizons and paved the way for the start of astronaut flights in the Apollo man-to-the-moon project.

The final few hours were busy ones for Lovell and Aldrin. At times they told ground controllers that they were too rushed to do everything they were being told to do.

They monitored a number of problems, none serious, which plagued the record-shattering mission.

The difficulties involved four of 16 maneuvering thrusters and power-producing fuel cells, which required frequent purges of hydrogen and oxygen to prevent pressure buildup.

U.S. Opens New Assault; Red Gunners Hit Copters

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. 1st Infantry Division launched a new airborne assault today against the Viet Cong 9th Division near the Cambodian border but Communist gunners hiding in the jungle shot down at least three troop-carrying helicopters.

U.S. B-52 strategic bombers from Guam carried out the sixth consecutive day of saturation raids against suspected Communist positions in the area 55 to 60 miles northwest of Saigon but still the Viet Cong's jungle ambush took a toll of dead and injured.

Each of the helicopters carried a four-man crew and space for seven troopers but there was no report on how many were killed. Two U.S. Marine helicopters were shot down yesterday near Da Nang with a loss of three dead and two injured. Thus far in the war, 223 helicopters have been shot down.

The Communists themselves killed and wounded women and children in an orgy of terrorism with middle-of-the-night attacks on government outposts around Saigon, but lost heavily in anti-guerrilla raids by U.S. and South Vietnamese troops.

A company of civilian irregular defense group troops killed at least 80 Viet Cong in a fight yesterday 40 miles west of Saigon but suffered moderate casualties.

The losses came as Big Red One troopers began an assault on another sector of the war zone C Communist sanctuary near the Cambodian border.

The operation mushroomed into the largest of the war—with an estimated 25,000 troopers—when the U.S. 4th Division was ordered into the sweep late last week.

For the sixty day in a row, the huge bombers today rained tons of bombs into the war zone, hitting 18 miles northeast of Tay Ninh City.

Generally poor weather conditions throughout North Viet Nam yesterday restricted U.S. pilots to 58 strikes against the Communist nation, but air action was heavy in the South.

Tension Eases Along Frontier

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Tension appeared to have eased today on this side of the Israeli-Arab border.

No new frontier incidents have been reported and Israeli farm equipment has resumed working in the Hula Valley, about 12 miles north of the Sea of Galilee where firing between Syrian and Israeli positions has been reported during the last two days.

LBJ Entering Hospital Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, at times an impatient patient, was to enter Bethesda Naval Hospital late today to prepare for the dual operation he faces tomorrow morning.

Johnson will undergo throat and abdominal surgery early tomorrow.

It will be Johnson's second date with the surgeons in little more than a year. On Oct. 8, 1965, he underwent 2 hours and 15 minutes of surgery for removal of his gall bladder and a kidney stone.

Construction Decline Reported In October

WASHINGTON (AP) — The construction industry experienced its seventh straight month of decline in October, the Commerce Department reported today. Housing construction led the drop.

The department said the value of new construction put in place in October totaled $71.8 billion.

More Dates For Long-Idle Gas Chamber

San Quentin prison's gas chamber, which has not been used since January, 1963, loomed closer today for two more convicts.

The execution of Dovie Carl Mathis, 30, convicted of a 1963 robbery-murder near San Jose, was set for Dec. 14 yesterday by a judge in Santa Clara County Superior Court.

Superior Court at Bakersfield is to set a new execution date for Edmund E. Reeves, convicted of shooting an oil field worker in the back after robbing him of 70 cents in March, 1963.

Last week, Dec. 6 was set for execution of Ernest Leroy Jacobson, 36, who drowned the daughter of his common-law wife in Los Angeles County in 1964.

Mathis' new date follows rejection of his appeal last month by the U.S. Supreme Court.

Appeals and legal actions have stayed all executions at San Quentin for almost four years. There are now 62 men on Death Row.

Teen-Ager Ruled As Mass Slayer

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — An all-male coroner's jury, acting swiftly, ruled today that four women and an infant girl died "as the result of gunshot wounds inflicted by Robert Benjamin Smith."

The six-man panel reached its unanimous verdict, deliberating only 10 minutes, after hearing an hour of testimony.

Smith, who surrendered at the scene of the beauty shop slayings Saturday morning, remained in a jail cell in nearby Phoenix while jurors viewed the victim's bodies.

He was elected last night at the City Commission meeting where he went to begin a fifth term as 3rd Ward commissioner.

McCree said that he never dreamed he would be mayor of any city, let alone one as big as Flint.

He is a strong advocate of open housing and equal employment opportunities.

Belli Claims Ward Stole, Didn't Kill

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Attorney Melvin Belli told Superior Court yesterday his client Max Ward, was an embezzler but not a murderer. In an opening statement, he contended Ward was on trial because of Mrs. Ward's affairs.

Ward, 39, and Carl M. Black, 47, are on trial, charged with murder and conspiracy to commit murder in the shotgun slaying April 5 of Dow Wilson, AFL-CIO Painters Union local leader in San Francisco.

Ward, a Sacramento painting contractor, was an employer trustee of a Painters Union local's welfare fund that was looted in Sacramento. Black, an Oakland accountant was the fund's auditor.

Wilson, who had been at odds with his union's international organization, also challenged the handling of the fund.

"Ward was in his home at Sacramento the night of the Wilson killing," Belli contended.

Without specifying just how, Belli said Ward was dragged into the case because Norman Call, Sacramento painting contractor, and Ben Rasnick, painters Union official in the San Francisco East Bay Area, "were playing musical beds with Ward's wife."

Call, 46, also an employer trustee for the looted fund, has been convicted in the slaying. Testimony Call gave the grand jury after his conviction led to an indictment against Rasnick.

"Ben Rasnick. . .and Norman Call. . .were having a meretricious relationship with the wife of Ward," Belli also said. "This little man (Ward) knew nothing about this game of musical beds. If ever there was a case of a man being a cuckold, it is in this case here."

The attorney did tell the jury that his client embezzled $3,600 from the welfare fund.

The slaying, Belli contended, was ordered by the union's international organization because of its differences with Wilson.

Ward's wife was in the court during Belli's statement.

Two others have been indicted in the case—Richard Rock, 33, of Mill Valley, a San Francisco saloon owner, and Clyde Simmonds, 75, a Sacramento painting firm employee. Their cases are pending.

Hiring Minority Groups Cited As Good Business

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Hiring minority group workers is "the business community's most effective device for looking after its own interests," says the publisher of three Negro magazines.

John H. Johnson, founder and publisher of Ebony, Jet and Negro Digest, said yesterday equal opportunity hiring is more good business than just a civil rights program.

"The truth of the matter," he said, "is that the American business community cannot afford the price of unequal employment."

Johnson said nondiscriminatory hiring also opens up "rich veins of untapped talent and manpower" and creates "a stable social climate which is a precondition for a vigorous and expanding market."

Russia Hints At Conference To Oust China

SOFIA, Bulgaria (AP) — Soviet Communist party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev today endorsed a proposal for a world Communist meeting which presumably would expel China from the Red fold.

Brezhnev, addressing the Bulgarian Communist party congress, also attacked U.S. policy in Viet Nam and renewed Soviet pledges of aid to the Vietnamese Communists.

Employing some of the strongest terms he has yet used against Peking's leaders, Brezhnev accused them of following "narrow nationalistic aims" and ignoring the interests of world communism.

Opening the congress yesterday, First Secretary Todor Zhivkov of the Bulgarian party said it "believes that conditions are ripe" for a world Communist conference. This was the first direct call from a major Communist party for a meeting.

Brezhnev said today that "it is not by accident that a number of fraternal parties have lately been voicing the opinion that conditions are getting ever more ripe for a conference."

His careful phrasing that conditions are getting ripe indicated some Soviet caution about chances of organizing a conference. It would force Communist parties to be counted for or against Peking, and the parties in North Viet Nam, North Korea, Romania and others have been unwilling to be forced into this position.

Civil Rights Protest Ruling A New Trend?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has crossed threshold in civil rights protest cases.

Whether it has broken sharply with its past holdings is subject to interpreation. Justice Hugo L. Black says the court has not. Justice William O. Douglas says it has.

But however little or much the court may have veered, yesterday's 5-4 ruling in a Tallahassee, Fla., case enhances state power to declare certain kinds of government property off limits for even peaceful protest.

Specifically off limits because they were at issue in the Tallahassee case are the driveways and premises of jail houses.

Black, in writing the court's decision, did not give other instances of government property which could be declared off limits. But he, and the court majority, undoubtedly mean to encompass more than just county jail houses, for he concluded with this general statement:

"The United States Constitution does not forbid a state to control the use of its own property for its own lawful nondiscriminatory purpose."

And he likened government authority in this field to the right of a private person to guard his back yard against trespassing, for he also said:

"The state, no less than a private owner of property, has power to preserve the property under its control for the use to which it is lawfully dedicated."

The decision was not very surprising. In several recent cases various members of the court have demonstrated increasing impatience with civil rights protests.

After the decision was announced, Douglas—like Black, a free speech advocate — said from the bench:

"We now have set into the record a great and wonderful police state doctrine."

In his written dissent, Douglas expanded on this theme, saying the majority was giving public officials "the awesome power to decide whose ideas may be expressed and who shall be denied a place to air their claims and petition their government."

The First Amendment, Douglas said, gives the 32 Florida A&M students whose trespass convictions were upheld the right to protest segregation outside the Tallahassee jail.

Court Martial Reprimands Kuntze; He'll Retire Soon

TREASURE ISLAND (UPI) —Navy Capt. Archie C. Kuntze today was paying a heavy price for his love affair in Saigon with a young Chinese beauty.

A general court martial convicted Kuntze yesterday on three charges of "conduct unbecoming an officer" and, as sentence, imposed an official reprimand that will cost him his promising Navy career.

Kuntze, 45 and regarded in line for promotion to admiral, specifically was found guilty of allowing Jannie Suen, a 27-year-old Chinese national to "reside openly and notoriously in his official quarters," of letting her make "repeated and notorious use" of his official car and of illegally importing 250 yards of black cloth from Bangkok to Saigon.

Kuntze was acquitted of 15 other charges. Among them were allegations of illegal currency transactions and of perjury in his testimony before a board of investigation last May.

Kuntze said following sentencing he would request retirement from the service. The reprimand, plus loss of 100 numbers on the Navy promotion list, virtually eliminated his chances for promotion to admiral. The board, however, could have imposed a heavier penalty of dismissal from service. This would have deprived the dark, balding four-striper of about $250,000 in retirement funds.

TUNNEL FOUND

Landlady Saves Bank A Burglar

LOS ANGELES (AP) — This, police say, is how a landlady saved the Bank of America from a clever, tunneling burglar:

A man calling himself Ray Thomas rented an empty store 30 feet from the bank in July. Then he started tunneling.

"He was doing a good job as far as the digging is concerned," said Lt. Roy Keene. "He got about half-way toward the bank."

But last week Mrs. Goldie Michelson noticed that the store tenant was three weeks behind on his rent. She sent a broker to collect the $90 due her.

The broker, John W. Ayers, found the doors locked, the windows boarded and tar-papered. The tenant wasn't there. He found instead a six-by-eight foot hole in the concrete floor, a four-foot-wide tunnel leading from it, and 800 cubic feet of neatly piled dirt.

Police waited for the man to return, but he never did.

"Actually, he might have gotten into the vault," said Keene, "but he would have set off the alarm.

"He never would have gotten away with it."

Behr Favors East Bay Tube For Marin Use

Southern Marin county has no need for rapid transit, County Supervisor Peter Behr yesterday told some 250 San Franciscans concerned with freeway problems and the dumping of commute traffic on their streets.

Behr recommended a rapid transit tube paralleling the existing San Rafael - Richmond bridge to syphon off traffic from the center and northern parts of the county and relieve congestion on Golden Gate Bridge.

If this tube tied in to the projected Bay Area Rapid Transit system in Richmond, Behr said, a commuter could travel from San Rafael via the East Bay to San Francisco's financial district in 37.5 minutes.

He based the time on a 1955 study which forecast 11 minutes traveling time on rapid transit from San Rafael to Richmond and the BART estimate of 26.5 minutes from Richmond to San Francisco.

Behr also said that if, instead of hooking up with BART, such a tube then turned south along the East Bay's mudflats, taking advantage of shallows extending almost to Treasure Island, the commute route would be only one and a half miles longer than the present trip via Highway 10' from San Rafael to the financial district.

Behr and San Francisco Supervisor Leo T. McCarthy spoke at a meeting of eight neighborhood associations organized by the Telegraph Hill Dwellers Assn. and held at Fisherman's Wharf.

McCarthy said San Francisco supervisors favor a rapid transit underwater tube if any additional Marin-San Francisco connection is needed.

Zoning To Be Studied

A city-county study to provide a uniform format for zoning ordinances throughout the county will be considered at 8 p.m. tomorrow by Sausalito Planning Commission in city hall. Also on the agenda is a report on the proposed sign ordinance.

Sgt. Perry J. Haley is president of the Novato Police Assn.

Closed Session Slated On County Posts, Pay

Marin County supervisors today struggled with the wording of a new policy on salaries for county department heads, and agreed that all five supervisors would meet in closed session Dec. 5 to "evaluate" the work of 14 elective department heads.

The board adopted a statement prepared by County Personnel Director Robert D. Elliott, which said the board in open session would establish a range of pay for the public executives and would set the pay for individuals within that range "based on merit evaluation."

Further on in the statement, Elliott said the purpose of the closed session was improving the effectiveness of government, and it could result in dismissal "and carry no assurance of or a direct relationship to a change in salary."

The Independent-Journal asked if these two statements were not in conflict.

"I don't see it that way," Supervisor chairm Byron W. Leydecker said.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen declared the first statement, saying setting of pay within the range would be based on merit evaluation, was referring to the position, while the second statement referred to an individual. Elliott said this was correct.

Earlier, Supervisor Peter H. Behr and Kettenhofen got into stiff debate over the need for such evaluations. Behr said that evaluation and suggestions might better be the job of the county administrator.

"You'd just be inviting uniform mediocrocey," Kettenhofen declared.

"Ridiculous!" said Behr.

"Your suggestion is ridiculous," Kettenhofen said.

Leydecker said later that the policy on salaries would separate the evaluation of a department head from the setting of salary. Salaries will normally be set in June budget hearings in open session, he said.

However, 14 department heads are in line for saralary increases Jan. 1 and $10,000 was budgeted to cover the cost until June 30. So supervisors will adopt new salaries for them prior to the first of the year. First, however, they must be evaluated.

This is similar to former procedure where two members of the board met in closed session as the executive salary committee. They recommended to the full board on what the salary should be and the pay was set in open session.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney earlier told the board there could be no closed session to consider salary alone, but the meetings could be closed when charges against an employee or his dismissal might result.

Maloney was not present when the board adopted the new policy today.

PLANE

tions of the airmen pending notification of next of kin.

The apparent lack of cooperation apparently stemmed from the fact the Russians were prevented for days from checking the wreckage of a Soviet jet fighter of a new type which crashed in the British sector last April. The wreckage of the Yak 25 was returned only after it was carefully studied.

The three-jet medium range plane had been diverted from Tempelhof airport to the bigger Tegel airport in the French zone where the late President John F. Kennedy landed on his visit to Berlin in June, 1963.

The plane apparently exploded, but there was no confirmation. A West Berlin policeman said he heard a terribly loud explosion but he and a motorist who heard the noise said they saw no flames. Soviet zone police and East German soldiers closed off the site.

ADN said the jet crashed near Dallgow in the Potsdam district of East Germany, about three miles west of West Berlin. It did not say what happened to the plane but reported a commission headed by East German Deputy Commerce Minister Paul Wilpert was at the scene.

Dallgow is near the site of one of the largest troop emplacements in Communist Germany. The East German Army has headquarters at Doeberitz, just outside Dallgow, and the Soviet Army has a large installation of infantry troops there too.

Should the Russians demand the Americans act only through East Germany an international crisis could develop. The Americans do not recognize the East German regime and have refused to deal with them in the past.

Insignia Winners Announced

The three student winners in the Western Weekend insignia contest were announced last night at a Western weekend directors meeting in the Novato Community House.

Kathy Gipson of 27 Kristy Court won first; Claudia Long of 238 San Carlos Way, second, and Nancy Knight of 27 Ramona Way, third. All are students at Hill Junior High School.

James Duckworth of the Lions Club, Donald Leaf of the Kiwanis Club and Charles Douglas of the Mariners Club were elected to fill vacanates on the board of directors.

The date of Novato's annual celebration was changed from June 11-18 to June 18-25, to avoid starting it before school close.

As the area behind the San Marin information center, west of highway 101 on San Marin Drive, was chosen for the carnival.

The parade was changed from Saturday morning to a twilight parade on Saturday night.

The celebration will start with a rodeo on Sunday and be climaxed by the twilight parade.

The board decided to print its own programs with a history of the celebration and historical events in this part of California.

Shellac, Thinner Explode; Much Damage To Home

Mixing shellac and thinner on a gas range with the pilot light on proved disastrous yesterday to Mrs. L. B. Cronkright of 586 Louis Drive, Novato.

The fumes ignited with an explosion, slightly burning Mrs. Cronkright on the hands and arms. The resulting fire did damage estimated by Novato Fire Chief George Cavallero at $2,000 to the gas range, refrigerator, kitchen cabinets, floor, and walls of the kitchen, and extensive smoke damage throughout the newly redecorated house. The house was empty of furnishings except for the range and refrigerator.

The Cronkrights had moved to 809 Oleander Street and were redecorating their former home for rental.

Mrs. Cronkright was preparing to shellac the front room floor.

Driver's Mouth Cut As Car Hits Pole

Kenneth John Sproete, 22, of 23 Marian Court, Novato, was treated for a cut on his mouth at Novato Hospital after his car hit a pole about 9 p.m. yesterday.

Sproete was driving through downtown Novato shopping center parking lot when his glasses slipped off. As he reached for them, his car hit a metal pole, police reported.

STORER CAN LAUGH DESPITE THE ELECTION

Marin County supervisors discussing service on committees of the California Supervisors Assn. today, when Supervisor Thomas T. Storer broke up the meeting with laughter.

"Maybe I ought to serve on the disaster committee," Storer said.

Storer, a candidate for Congress in the first district, was beaten last week by better than 2-1 by incumbent Donald R. Clausen.

Woman Saved As Auto Burns

A young woman was pulled to safety from her burning car by the driver of a car it hit yesterday on Highway 37 near the Sonoma-Marin line.

Suzanne Lee Ames, 21, of Napa was in satisfactory condition today at Novato General Hospital with a fractured leg and pelvis and cut chin. Yesterday at 2:25 p.m., her westbound car veered into the highway guard rail, fishtailed back and careened across the westbound lanes, striking an eastbound car driven by James Louis Cochran, 19, of Rio Linda, according to the California Highway Patrol

Miss Ames was thrown from her car as it burst into flames. She was rescued by Cochran. Cochran's mother, Beatrice who was a passenger in his car, was treated for head and face injuries at Novato General Hospital.

Pedestrian Hit By San Rafael Patrol Car

A 54-year-old San Rafael woman escaped serious injury last night when she was knocked down by a slow-moving San Rafael Police car in the marked crosswalk at Fifth and Lincoln avenues.

Verna Bullis of 1215 Tamalpais Avenue was taken to Marin General Hospital by ambulance and treated for a cut forehead, then released.

She was struck at 6:05 p.m. by a police car driven by Patrolman Terry V. Luchessi, 26, who has been on the force two years, police said.

Police said Luchesi stopped his car, westbound on Fifth Avenue, then began a five-mile-per-hour left turn onto Lincoln Avenue. He told fellow officers it was raining and he did not see the woman before he struck her. She was crossing Lincoln Avenue eastbound.

Fisher Files Against Liz

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer Eddie Fisher has filed a divorce suit against Elizabeth Taylor, saying her 1964 Mexican divorce from him is invalid. He said he was not represented when her decree was granted.

The 34-year-old actress is now married to British actor Richard Burton.

Fisher, 38, once the husband of actress Debbie Reynolds, asked in the suit filed yesterday that the court rule his marriage to Miss Taylor valid, then grant him a divorce, divide community property and determine who should have custody of Liza Todd Fisher, Miss Taylor's daughter by Todd.

The suit alleges Miss Taylor deserted Fisher in 1962.

TANK

Downey, "I guess it will have to be replaced some time, but not till summer time."

He estimated the tank was about 40 years old.

Dr. Webber said Point Reyes Station residents had noticed the oldest tank leaking for several years, but complaints to the water company brought no action.

Mason, who owns a coffee shop in Point Reyes Station, drove back and forth from his home in Inverness with five gallon jugs of water yesterday morning to keep the restaurant open until the water supply was switched to the remaining tank.

He drafted today's protest to the Public Utilities Commission, which stated:

"We appeal to you to compel owner James J. Downey to provide users with an ample and reliable water supply. Collapse of the main storage tank and the building housing it places our community in jeopardy. The standby tank is small; the pressure system has a long history of failure."

Coincidentally, today the citizens water committee presented its petition for annexation of the West Marin area to the North Marin County Water District. Dr. Webber, chairman, said the group collected more than 70 resident voters signatures for the petition, well over the 5 per cent required for presentation to the Local Agency Formation Commission.

On Aug. 16, Point Reyes Station was without water and the elementary school closed. On Nov. 4 the pump failed and all the main street business were again without water.

Recently the Inverness Public Utilities District offered West Marin School a 35,000-gallon water tank that had stood empty on an Inverness hillside for years.

Last night School Supt. Howard F. Brose told the district board that the Inverness district had rescinded its offer.

"Some of the Inverness district residents felt it wasn't right for the district to give it away," he said. "I don't think we could have taken it any way. It would have been too expensive and it still wouldn't have solved our water problems."

Minutemen's Guilt Due To Weapons

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — "I think the weapons impressed us more than anything else," said Darold D. Holmes, foreman of a federal court jury which yesterday convicted Robert B. DePugh and two other members of the Minutemen of violating the National Firearms Act.

The jurors had seen the prosecution display a .50 caliber machine gun and four smaller machine guns which had been hidden underground.

SENTENCE DELAYED

DePugh, 43, founder of the secret organization, and Walter Peyson, 24, both of Norborne, Mo., could be sentenced to 15 years imprisonment. The other defendant, Troy Houghton, 33, San Diego, Calif., could get five years. They were given 30 days in which to file for a new trial. All remained free under bond.

Judge Elmo B. Hunter said he expected to sentence the men in about three weeks.

DePugh, who urged Minutemen to take guerrilla training to resist communism, left the courtroom with a big smile.

"I have been told by my attorney to make no statement and I will make none," he said.

Members of the jury said there never was any question in their minds about the defendants' guilt after deliberations started.

STAR WITNESS

"I think everyone was influenced by the testimony given by Mr. Husted," said Holmes.

Raithby Roosevelt Husted, 23-year-old ex-Marine, testified that he helped Peyson bury the .50 caliber machine gun under a Missouri farmhouse, and bury the other machine guns and ammuniton near a cemetery. He later led FBI agents to the caches.

DePugh and Peyson were convicted of having automatic weapons or silencers without registering them and of not paying the $200 transfer fee on each weapon. All three defendants were convicted of conspiracy.

NEW YORK RAIDS

Nineteen alleged Minutemen recently were rounded up in New York, along with a huge supply of ammunition and weapons. Nat H. Hentel, Queens County district attorney, said the raids were linked with DePugh and DePugh would be asked to appear before a Queens County grand jury.

After his trial, DePugh said he wasn't going to New York, and that the 19 men were not dues-paying Minutemen.

New York Nips Topless Craze

NEW YORK (AP)—City and state authorities have begun a crackdown on topless waitresses in an apparent effort to keep the West Coast craze from gaining a foothold in New York.

Police arrested two topless waitresses on a charge of indecent exposure last night, and for the first time since they began working last week at an East Side Manhattan supper club, took them into custody.

As the waitresses, Rudy Diamond, 28, and Florence R. Mayer, 27, left the Crystal Room supper club fully clothed, several patrons cheered while others booed.

Also arrested was the club's manager, Chester Von Savage, 51, charged with permitting indecent exposure.

Doctors' Poll Backs Abortion Law Revisions

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A poll by the American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology overwhelmingly supported a liberalized California law on abortions, a professor testified yesterday.

Dr. Edmund Overstreet, University of California Medical Center professor of obstetrics, was speaking at a hearing by the Governor's Commission on Population.

The bill approved by the poll would permit abortion to protect a woman's health. The bill is pending before the legislature. Present law permits abortion only if a woman's life is endangered.

Prof. Ruth Roemer of the UCLA school of public health declared that "In the matter of rape and incest, the law flies in the face of simple justice and humanity" in forcing the victim to bear the child.

Mrs. Roemer also said the present law blocks good medical care and discriminates between rich and poor.

"A rich woman can affort to go abroad for an abortion or she can afford to employ two psychiatrists who will testify that she may commit suicide if she does not have an abortion," Mrs. Roemer said.

Federal Judges Cancel Medicare Loyalty Oath

LOS ANGELES (AP)—More than three million applicants may be affected by three federal judges' decision that it is unconstitutional to require a loyalty oath on Medicare applications.

The estimated 3.4 million are those applicants not covered by Social Security or a Civil Service program. Their applications require them to say whether they are members of eight groups registered as communist under the Internal Security Act of 1950.

The judges said yesterday that asking the question infringes on constitutional rights under the first amendment to freedom of speech, assembly and association.

They decided a suit filed for a Los Angeles housewife, Mrs. Alda T. Reed, 65, by the American Civil Liberties Union.

Mrs. Reed applied for Medicare last March, declining to answer the question on group membership. Her application was approved six months later, but with a typed warning that she was subject to a stiff penalty if it were proved later that she was a member of a group named in the question.

Commented the judges: "It appears to this court that the government is saying on the one hand that the question need not be answered and on the other that one failing to reveal such membership is subject to penalty."

The judges ruling on the suit were Walter Ely of the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeal; Thurmond Clarke, presiding judge of the Central District of California; and District Court Judge E. Avery Crary.

The European Common Market will be among the international bodies taking part in Montreal's Expo 67.

Champion Quits; Many Others Will Resign

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Democratic Gov. Brown's top adviser, Finance Director Hale Champion, has quit and two more top aides were preparing to leave today as the guard began changing in the Capitol.

Employment Director Albert Tieburg — criticized during the campaign by Republican Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan — was expected to announce his resignation. Tieburg had an announcement ready, but wouldn't immediately disclose the contents.

NOT MUCH THOUGHT

And Paul Ward, administrator of the big Health and Welfare Agency, said "I naturally will stay through the next few days and try to help with the orderly transition but I won't be reappointed."

Two other chiefs of the super agencies set up by Brown, and criticized by Reagan, said they haven't given much thought to their futures.

They are Robert Bradford of the Highway Transportation Agency and Richard McGee of the Youth and Corrections Agency.

JIBED AT REAGAN

McGee jibed at Reagan during the campaign. Bradford has been a close associate of Brown's.

Dozens of other Brown administration executives were shopping around for new jobs. There's some confusion about how many jobs will be vacated, but it has been estimated that some 500 full-time employees serve directly or indirectly at the pleasure of the governor.

Meanwhile, Reagan's top adviser, Philip M. Battaglia, his executive secretary, was in Sacramento to hold more meetings on the change of administration.

Accompanying him was Lyn Nofziger, Reagan's press secretary during the campaign and an all-but-certain choice to be the top press aide during the new administration.

FAMILY KIDNAPED

Champion, Brown's top adviser for much of his eight-year administration, was at the center of the nation's attention in July of 1964 when two armed fugitives kidnaped him, his wife and their baby daughter from their Sacramento home. All three were released after almost 24 hours.

In a letter, he told Reagan he was resigning effective Jan. 2, the day the new administration takes over.

Champion disagreed with Reagan's campaign contention that it was too late to change the budget that will be presented to the legislature in January.

Brown, the finance director said, "has instructed me to assure you of the fullest cooperation in making it possible for your administration to present a budget to the 1967 legislature that is, in fact as well as theory, your budget."

"This is not difficult and requires no undue strain on the normal budget making process," he said.

FIXED BY STATUTES

"Gov. Brown was able to accomplish this in 1958 under very similar circumstances through the cooperation of Gov. Knight's outgoing administration and there is no reason why you should not be able to do the same."

Reagan had contended most expenditures are fixed by prior statutes or the constitution, and Champion agreed.

But he said that civil servants now drawing up the budget have been told not to make any future financial commitments without clearing it with "you or your representatives."

In quitting his $30,319-a-year job, Champion joins William E. Warne, director of water resources; Joseph Farber, director of veterans affairs; and Newton Holcomb, social welfare director, in resigning.

Hugo Fisher, administrator of the Health and Welfare Agency, also has said he will quit.

Champion came to Sacramento with Brown as press secretary in 1959, and was elevated to executive secretary before becoming finance director.

Brown, meanwhile, was preparing to fill at least 48 judicial vacancies that he can appoint before he leaves office.

Tiburon Council Upholds Planners' Small Lot Veto

Tiburon City Council last night upheld planning commission denial of rezoning to permit half-acre lots on Hacienda Avenue, which is zoned for one-acre minimum.

Dr. Paul E. Wilson of 123 Hacienda Avenue, who had been joined by six other property owners in the original application, then tried without success to induce the council to permit him to split his own one-acre lot.

Councilman William R. Bremer, who cast the only vote against upholding the denial, moved earlier to send the matter back to the planning commission for determination of Wilson's lot-split request alone. Those, however, lost in a tie vote. Councilman Thomas E. Drohan joined Bremer in voting for the referral, but Councilmen Branwell D. Fanning and Gordon W. Strawbridge opposed. Mayor John S. Hoffmire was absent.

Fanning said objecting neighbors had written letters and appeared at committee meetings since last year, and there was no need for further delay. "We have the facts now and we can make a decision," he said.

Despite the rain, more than 50 people crowded the city hall council chamber for the meeting, including a class of students from Redwood High School.

Tiburon City Council Last Night Also:

1. Agreed to petition the county board of supervisors to integrate the city's civil defense program with that of the county.
2. Adopted an ordinance putting Tiburon city employees under a California state employees retirement system, effective next Jan. 1.
3. Adopted a cable television franchise ordinance.
4. Accepted the only bid received for a new police vehicle from San Rafael Dodge for $2,441.01. The car will be financed under a three-year lease purchase agreement with Bank of America at 4.25 per cent interest.
5. Authorized a resolution prepared to permit the city manager to make transfers from fund to fund as funds are received, within the limits of the budget, so council will not have to review each transfer.
6. Took note of the parks and recreation commission resolution on recommended changes in the downtown plan, but decided not to set a date for a public hearing until the report is in from the Tiburon Peninsula Advisory Committee, which is also studying the plan. That report is due Nov. 30.
7. Set for Dec. 12 public hearing on the general sketch plan by Williams, Cook and Mocine.

Grand Theft Jury Trial Scheduled

Jury trial for Kegham Shahenian, 48, charged with grand theft in unemployment compensation, was scheduled yesterday in Marin Superior Court for the week of Jan. 16.

Trial setting followed denial of a motion for dismissal because of insufficient evidence.

Shahenian, of 1222 Fourth Street, San Rafael, is accused of obtaining over $1,000 from the State Department of Employment between March 10 to Oct. 10, 1965, while he also was drawing over $1,200 in wages at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, San Rafael.

The complaint in Marin County originally was thought to be a test case because such alleged violations heretofore have been handled under a misdemeanor section of the Unemployment Insurance Code, but Deputy Dist. Atty. Michael Anthony said a similar case had been tried in Los Angeles Superior Court, and conviction upheld by the Second District Court of Appeals.

Bank Robbers Take $16,597

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A bank robber who held 40 customers and 12 employees at bay with a pistol has escaped with $16,597, police say.

The man walked into a Bank of America branch yesterday in southwest Los Angeles, forced four tellers to give him money, and ran out the front door, police said.

A passing motorist was stopped by the robber, who ordered him out and commandeered the car. The vehicle later was found abandoned, according to police.

Permit Approved

Marin County zoning administrator Thomas E. Cordill yesterday granted a use permit to Manuel T. Gonsalves to permit the use of a trailer for an accessory residence on the Gonsalves dairy ranch on Lucas Valley Road, seven miles west of Highway 101.

Tiburon Plans Street Closing For Yule Fete

Tiburon's Main Street will be closed twice this year for Santa Claus.

The Tiburon City Council, at request of Thomas J. Belton, president of the Main Street Merchants Assn., last night agreed to block traffic off the street on Nov. 27, when Santa will arrive in Tiburon by boat, "Christmas" festivities.

"They will both be community affairs, not just promotions for the merchants," said Belton. He said the merchants hope the street will ultimately be closed permanently in accordance with the general sketch plan which shows it as a pedestrian mall.

City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose said city Engineer Ray Foreaker, Lt. George Barnes of the sheriff's sub-station, and Fire Chief Franklin P. Buscher had approved the closing, providing access for emergency vehicles is provided.

Merchants agreed to put up $100 for out-of-pocket expenses. The council agreed to have city employees close the street, install "no parking" signs, etc.

U.S. Balance Of Payments Shows Decrease

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department says the deficit in the U.S. balance of payments dropped during the third quarter of 1966 but may increase a bit before the year ends.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler said yesterday balance-of-payments conditions have a way of swinging back and forth. He said in view of the good showing in the last two quarters, "I wouldn't be surprised if there were some increase in the deficit in the period ahead."

Fowler reported yesterday a third-quarter seasonally adjusted deficit of $217 million. This brought the total deficit for the first nine months of 1966 to $878 million—which would mean an annual rate of $1.17 billion, compared with last year's $1.34 billion deficit.

Yule Decorations For Fourth Street

Downtown San Rafael will have Christmas decorations on Fourth Street this year after all.

Merchants in the downtown area responded so well to a plea for contributions for the decorations, the tinsel and bells will soon be along Fourth Street from Lincoln Avenue to E Street, said John J. Alvarado, manager of San Rafael Chamber of Commerce. Individual merchants were asked to contribute when the chamber dropped its annual decorations promotion on finding itself in the red in September.

Alvarado said $2,750 had been collected in advance by a committee headed by Charles Try of J. C. Penney Co. under the chamber's new pay-as-you-go policy and the decorations will go up by the end of this week or the beginning of next week.

Meanwhile, plans are still going ahead for a concert by San Rafael concert violinist Vlado Kolitsch, Dec. 4 at 3 p.m. in San Rafael High School auditorium.

Originally, Kolitsch—a member of the chamber—agreed all net proceeds from the concert would go to pay for this year's decorations.

But now the merchants themselves have come to the rescue, the violinist has suggested the proceeds go to start a "San Rafael Christmas Decorations Trust Fund" at the Bank of Marin.

He believes that if the fund can be built to $60,000, whoever assumes responsibility of the decorations will be reimbursed annually from the trust fund interest alone.

New Trial In Defective Auto Case

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Superior Court judge has ordered a new trial of a 31-year - old woman's suit gainst General Motors Corp. charging defects in a 1960 Chevrolet Corvair.

Judge Laurence J. Rittenband ruled yesterday that a jury awarded $66,000 to Mrs. Rosemary Cantos, of surburban Torrance, without sufficient evidence of her allegations that she and her daughter, Joann, 7, were injured because of defective Corvair design.

Mrs. Cantos' suit alleged that she and her daughter were injured Sept. 15, 1960 when a defective universal joint or axle broke in the Corvair in which they were riding. The jury ruled 9-3 Sept. 2 in Mrs. Cantos' favor.

A General Motors spokesman said the Cantos case is one of four against the corporation in Los Angeles County involving a Corvair, and the only one in the nation in which a jury decided for the plaintiff.

Insanity Plea Made To Marijuana Charge

Donald Lee Humes, 27, pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a charge of marijuana possession.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson appointed two psychiatrists to examine Humes, of San Francisco, and report Dec. 5. Humes allegedly had marijuana in his possession at Marin General Hospital June 21.

TUY HOA, South Viet Nam (AP)—This $50-million U.S. Air Force base began combat operations today 45 days ahead of schedule.

Gen. Hunter Harris, commander of the U.S. Air Force in the Pacific, said the new base will permit quicker air strikes in support of ground operations in the midsection of South Viet Nam.

It may be less grand than most station wagons. But it's also about a grand less.

If you're looking for a miniature moving van, our Squareback Sedan isn't it. Even with its back seat folded down it only holds half as much as the average station wagon.

Which means you can't lug 30 pieces of luggage. Or a full-sized double bed.

But maybe you just need a car that can carry 15 valises. Or a full-sized single bed. Then you can save a lot of money with a Squareback Sedan.

It costs only $2395* And it not only goes for less than most conventional wagons to begin with, it keeps on going for less.

A Squareback travels about 27 miles on a gallon of gas. It takes 5 pints of oil instead of 5 quarts. It never needs an ounce of anti-freeze, because it's cooled by air. It should get a good 35,000 miles on a set of tires. And it avoids repair bills like a... well, like a Volkswagen.

So before you go out and buy some station wagon that has twice as much space as you really need, ask yourself this question:

Is the extra grandness worth an extra grand?

Mill Valley Cautious On Joint Planning Idea

Mill Valley planning commissioners gave a cautious reception last night to a proposed $130,000 joint city-county study of a uniform zoning code.

Proposed by County Planning Director Paul Zucker, the study would take two years and would be aimed at providing a uniform format for zoning ordinances throughout the county. If approved by the federal government, $87,000 of the cost would be met by a "701" grant, $38,000 through county staff time, $5,000 through city staff time, and $185 by the county to pay for the application for the grant.

Mill Valley commissioners stressed that cities must have equal footing with the county in the study, and urged that the study improve county zoning standards, rather than perhaps lowering standards of some cities. The true cost of the study to cities, Planning Director Harvey E. Bragdon noted, must include the contribution of city taxpayers to the $38,000 in county planning staff time.

Action on the proposal was deferred two weeks, pending Bragdon's analysis and recommendation. If approved by the commission, the proposal would be referred to the city council.

Subdivision into seven lots of 4.6 acres on the upper end of Camino Alto was deferred two weeks at request of City Engineer Stanley M. Bala, who asked time to study the effect on plans to widen the street. Dean A. Rhodes, engineer for the developer, Leonard Fleishman, objected to the delay.

Commissioners granted Edward Foh permission to add one dwelling unit to his property at 173 East Blithedale Avenue. Foh had asked addition of two units.

Commissioners set a field trip Dec. 4, to begin at noon at City Hall, to review future corporate limits of the city. A special meeting was set Dec. 10 at 9 a.m. in City Hall to discuss revision of planned unit development ordinances.

Sausalito's School Needs By Year '70

Sausalito School District will grow from the present 1,000 pupils to about 1,500 by 1970, district trustees were told last night by architects for the district building program, Weisbach, Boutmy and Silver.

Their estimate did not include schools which will be necessary in Marincello.

Trustees endorsed the estimates as a guideline for the architects to use in developing the building program.

Trustees approved application for a $44,000 state grant to operate a demonstration program to improve mathematics teaching in seventh and eighth grades. Approval of the grant is expected in January, Supt. Phillip W. Schneider said, with the project to begin in February at Richardson Bay School.

Experimental replacement of graded report cards with comment cards was approved for four classes for the first quarter report cards due next week.

Trustees asked Schneider to invite Mill Valley district trustees to a joint meeting to discuss annexation to the Sausalito school district of the western half of Tennessee Valley, now split by the two districts. No date for a joint meeting was set.

Court Trial Set On Burglary Count

Court trial for Harold Donnie Burton, 27, charged with the July 19 burglary of San Geronimo National Golf Club, was scheduled yesterday for the week of Jan. 9 in Marin Superior Court.

Burton, of Richmond, is accused of making off with about $1,500 worth of new golf clothing and equipment after breaking a large plate glass window. A co-defendant, Hezekiah Murphy, 42, also of Richmond, was bound over to superior court on the same charge Nov. 3.

Board Asks Playground Safety Plan

The Kentfield School District board last night asked that a plan be drawn for safer arrangment of playground equipment at Greenbrae School.

Some of the equipment is too close to buildings as the playground is now arranged, Supt. Anthony G. Bacich told the board.

School facilities shall not be used for private lessons if the instructor charges a fee, the board decided. Trustees asked that this rule be written into district policy.

The board asked Bacich to write to College of Marin, indicating the district's interest in one-third of an acre of college district property adjacent to Adaline E. Kent School.

The Kentfield school district board also:

1. Approved use of substitute teachers with secondary credentials to teach subjects outside the teacher's major and minor subjects.

2. Approved hiring Judith Kollgard as a classroom assistant at Wolfe Grade School at $2.25 an hour.

3. Asked that the district civil defense policy be re-written for clarification.

4. Recognized the Kentfield Teachers Assn. as a negotiating council.

5. Heard a report that the District has 27 volunteer aids now working one hour a day in school.

Strike Grounds Air Service

MONTREAL (AP) — A machinists' strike against Air Canada shut off 80 per cent of the country's air service today. The company normally hauls 20,000 passengers daily.

The strike began yesterday afternoon after 5,200 members of the International Association of Machinists, whose pay now ranges from $1.56 to $3.17 per hour, turned down an 18 per cent increase on a two-year contract. They demanded a 20 per cent boost plus 9 per cent in fringe benefits.

The strike idled 4,000 pilots, stewardesses and ticket agents and grounded the firm's 86-plane fleet.

Veterinarian Loses Appeal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The State District Court of Appeal upheld yesterday the revocation of the veterinary license of Woodrow W. Estep who was accused of cremating live kittens and cats.

The decision upheld findings of the State Board of Examiners in Veterinary Medicine and San Francisco and San Mateo County Superior Courts.

Estep, who has not practiced for a year, had two animal hospitals on the San Francisco Peninsula.

The courts ruled he diluted a mercy killing drug so that it did not kill some animals before they were cremated.

Yorty To Pay Series 'Bet'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mayor Samuel W. Yorty of Los Angeles says that he really wasn't wagering with the mayor of Baltimore over the World Series—but he'll pay up anyhow.

Yorty said yesterday he was sending Mayor Theodore R. McKelden some samples of California wine as a "goodwill gesture."

McKelden had said that he and Yorty bet a "barrel of world-famous succulent Chesapeake Bay oysters for any California product" on the World Series. But, said Yorty, local law prohibits betting on the series.

The Baltimore Orioles beat the Los Angeles Dodgers four straight games in the series.

The modern American bicycle is built strong enough to carry 10 times its own weight.

Golf Fence For Children Too Costly

Mill Valley Parks and Recreation commissioners agreed last night that a fence to keep children away from the fourth green at the golf course would be too expensive and would detract from the natural beauty of the area.

Instead, commissioners agreed to write parents in the neighborhood and ask them to keep their children off the course. Director Don Dimitratos said the chain-link fence would cost $706.

In a review of the 1956 master plan for parks and recreation, the Livingston Plan, commissioners agreed to limit further improvements in Highland Park to landscaping. The playground, neighborhood and senior citizen centers envisioned in the plan for Redwood Grove were deleted, but it was agreed to improve the picnic area and reduce the parking area.

Commissioners also agreed to provide grass tees and improve sometime in the future. Dimitratos estimated the golf course improvements could be made within three or four years.

Boyle Park, commissioners noted, will be developed in accordance with the plan drawn last year by Royston, Hanamoto Mayes and Beck, landscape architects. That plan calls for improved playground, parking and picnic areas.

Discussion of joint development of Project 17 by the city and school district was deferred to Nov. 28.

About 400,000 new settlers cross California's borders each year.

Board Accepts Resignation

Bolinas Fire Protection District commissioners last night accepted the resignation of James Dougan, a commissioner for 10 years. Dougan resigned because he has moved to San Rafael.

The board is to nominate a replacement to fill Dougan's term, which expires in 1968. The nomination must be confirmed by the board of supervisors.

Commissioners also agreed to buy 18 regulation fire hats for each of the district's 18 volunteer firemen at cost of $8 apiece.

NEW ROLE FOR OLD TUG — The ex-Navy tug Virginia City already has played roles unusual for a tugboat, such as shooting down Japanese planes in World War II. She is now at Tiburon being readied for still another role — gathering ore samples from the ocean's floor.

Veteran Tug Gets New Explorer Role

By M. ELIZABETH JOHNSTON

In Tiburon, at the Marine Mineral Technology Center, located at the old Navy Net Depot, the 205-foot ex-Navy tug Virginia City is being fitted out for a trip next spring to Alaska.

The spunky tug was known as the U.S.S. Pakana" when she served in the Okinawa campaign during World War II. She is credited with shooting down three Japanese planes. Some of the bullet marks still show through her new coat of paint, and a few bullet holes inside were left untouched as souvenirs of her war record.

GUN IS GONE

The three-inch gun on her boat-deck has been removed and she will soon have in its place a seven-ton crane which will gather mineral samples from the ocean's floor. A walkway for workmen has been installed around the bridge above the crane area. Another 12-ton crane will be installed in the ship's stern.

The Virginia City recently returned to Tiburon from the Fulton Shipyards in Antioch, where she was reactivated for her new role for the mineral technology center, a U. S. Bureau of Mines facility. The old radio and radar equipment has been stripped out and will be replaced with the most modern communications facilities, including radio-teletype.

DRILLING GEAR

She will be outfitted with automatic steering, a device for precise positioning of mining equipment, and other "very sophisticated pieces of equipment," according to Capt. K. E. Taylor, project coordinator at the center. One of the most important items will be a core-drilling rig for collecting mineral samples over the ship's side. The samples will be analyzed in a completely equipped laboratory aboard.

The Virginia City will spend the summer in Alaskan waters. She will leave Tiburon in May, the exact date depending on the unpredictable Alaskan summer.

The Virginia City will be searching for deposits of gold, silver, platinum, phosphorites, tin, tungsten and other metals, which may later be mined—not by the government, but by private mining companies.

EARLIER FINDS

Valuable deposits of coal and priceless diamonds have been located by Marine mining vessels in the virtually untapped resources under the water.

Despite the obvious difference of working in the water, marine mining has many similarities to that of land mining, according to Arthur P. Nelson, research director of the Tiburon center.

Fitting out the ship for 35 men over a five-month period "entails a terrific amount of planning," Captain Taylor said. He had a grocery list of rough estimates for groceries for the voyage. Some of the items were: 12 cases each of snap beans and peas, 20 cases of carrots, 15 cases of corn, 30 cases of canned tomatoes, 40 cases of mashed potatoes, 50 cases of white sliced potatoes.

Taylor said his short list of canned fruits and vegetables alone would cost around $3,000. Medical supplies will also have to be planned in advance to equip the ship's dispensary. Fresh meat, fruit, vegetables, and other groceries will be purchased nearer the departure day.

TV SET ABROAD

Although there will be a television aboard, Taylor said there will be no television reception when they get to Alaska. Instead, piped music and movies are planned to entertain the men.

The Marine Mineral Technology Center is one of five mining research bureaus across the nation under the U. S. Department of the Interior. The center in Tiburon is the only one concerned exclusively with marine mining.

Separate Trial Set On Robbery Charge

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court yesterday granted a request by Ronald Harold Berg, 21, for severance of an armed robbery charge from charges of concealing five guns and being a felon in possession of the weapons.

The judge scheduled jury trial on the armed robbery, the Aug. 17 holdup of Edgewater Inn Motel, Corte Madera, for the week of Nov. 28. Jury trial for the other two counts will begin the week of Jan. 9.

Marin Home Looted

Jerome M. Boscoe, 128 Crescent Avenue, Sausalito, reported to police yesterday the theft of property worth $645 from his home. The stolen goods included a gold charm bracelet worth $425, miscellaneous clothing and sports equipment, he said.

Council Worries Over Hill Area Water Lack

Fairfax city councilmen were urged last night to take steps to improve the water system for fire fighting in the city's hill areas, to prevent a major disaster.

"Once a fire gets going, you'll never stop it," warned W. A. DeCook of Mill Valley. It is important that the city provide either a separate system for fire fighting or build huge tanks, he said.

Mayor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. said the council is aware of the situation, but feels there is no solution other than revamping of the entire system. "This would be extremely costly," he said.

DeCook pointed out that homes tie into two-and-a-half inch lines, and there is not sufficient water pressure. He said people moving into these homes "are placed in danger."

DeCook's comments came after the council granted John Rhone a permit to build an addition to his home at 27 Holly Road.

Fire Chief Charles M. Thornton had recommended denial because of inadequate fire protection due to insufficient water pressure.

Councilmen granted the permit after reports said the addition would be fireproof, and would not be creating a hazard, since the hazard already exists. If it were a permit for a new house, they would consider it differently, they said.

Chief Thornton noted that the council rejected a permit for a new house on Holly Road because of inadequate fire protection.

The Fairfax City Council Also:

1. Presented certificates of appreciation to 23 volunteer firemen, including 88-year-old Charles Ravani, oldest member of the California State Firemen's Assn., for 20 years' service, and 22 certificates of appreciation to volunteer police officers.
2. Passed an ordinance creating a three-member design review board, including a member of the planning commission, which will pass on all buildings except single-family homes.
3. Referred a complaint about dogs, with signatures of 11 residents of 2575 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, to the sheriff's office and the Humane Society, because the dogs involved are not in the city.
4. Received a report from City Administrator David J. Sumbardo that he investigated complaints about noise from dances at the pavilion and learned that noise was escaping because three windows were broken. They have been replaced.
5. Re-affirmed its stand that a county services area should be established to provide extra sheriff's patrol service in unincorporated areas.
6. Postponed action on a request from the county planning department to join in a cities-county zoning ordinance study, until study of the request and proposed agreement.
7. Agreed to change the medical insurance coverage for employees to provide $38 a day for daily hospital rate instead of $30, with the employees to pay the additional charge.
8. Agreed to call for bids for a new street sweeper in conjunction with San Anselmo.
9. Asked Councilman Frank J. Egger and Public Works Director Richard J. Nelson to study the possibility of improving the Upper Cascade roadway.
10. Received a report from Police Chief James Orr that stop signs and parking regulation signs have been ordered for Scenic Way.
11. Received a complaint from Frank Divita of 56 Manor Road about a "hazardous" catch basin on San Miguel Court, and asked Nelson to investigate.
12. Awarded Figone Building Maintenance and Janitorial Service of San Rafael, one of two low bidders, a contract to provide services at the city hall and police department at $100 a month.

Guilty Pleas To Forgery

Guilty pleas to two counts of forgery were entered in Marin Superior Court yesterday by William Joseph Sunke, 31, of 176 Los Angeles Boulevard, San Anselmo.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson scheduled sentencing for Nov. 28.

Sunke forged a deed of trust April 13 with intent to defraud Pacific Coast Title Co., Mill Valley, and Murray Arnold. He also forged a $881.89 check on May 23 to defraud Arnold.

Sunke's sister, Dolores R. Arnold, 34, wife of Murray Arnold, was bound over to superior court Oct. 7 on the alleged deed of trust forgery, but no information has been filed against her in the higher court.

Needy Family Basket

Mill Valley Junior Chamber of Commerce today launched its second annual Thanksgiving drive to feed a needy family. Donations of food will be picked up by Les Mize, drive chairman. They can also be left at his office, 240 Miller Avenue, up to Nov. 21. A needy family will be selected by a local church.

Fairfax Calls Unity Meeting On Route 17

By FRANK FARRARA

Fairfax city councilmen were irked last night because people are recommending that Highway 17 be routed through their city.

They called for a meeting with San Anselmo and San Rafael city councils and representatives of interested organizations to bring about "a cooperative approach."

DATE TO BE SET

Mayor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. said the date and details of the meeting will be announced.

"It would be wise to get together, so we don't find groups fostering their problems on each other," he said.

Councilman Robert R. Souza said about 14 organizations have taken stands on the highway routing, and "all favor the central corridor" through San Rafael, San Anselmo and Fairfax.

One group will say "put it over there" and another "not here," and a third will say "never here," Souza contended. "What we have now is a hodge-podge based on personal bias."

Arrigoni opposed other groups "fostering their traffic problems on us." He said the Ross Town Council had opposed the route through Ross and favored the central corridor.

ROSS STAND

(Ross Council favored any of the alternates of the central corridor. One alternate, the central-ridge route, would not go through downtown Fairfax.)

"If people are trying to shove this down Fairfax's throat, they have another think coming," Arrigoni said.

He also reported that he has had telephone calls from residents who are concerned about groups outside Fairfax advocating the central corridor.

He claimed that "a lot of misinformation" has been given at some meetings of organizations.

Councilman Adelaide Wilson was the lone dissenter when the council voted to hold the special session. The meeting is slated to be held before the Division of Highways has a public hearing on proposed Highway 17 routings in San Rafael Dec. 8.

The world's most famous wild chimpanzees inhabit the green valleys, the trees and grassy ridges of Tanzania's Gombe Stream Reserve.

Albert E. Gately Named To Planning Commission

Attorney Albert E. Gately of 69 Bothin Road was appointed to the Fairfax Planning Commission last night by the Fairfax City Council.

Gately will complete the unexpired term of Roland Watts, which ends Dec. 31.

Mayor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. said there were four applicants for the seat left vacant by Watts' resignation. "It's unusual to get more than one applicant," he said.

The council held a closed session before the start of its regular meeting to interview applicants for the commission.

The council also named a 10-member citizens advisory committee on the civic center project. Appointed to the committee were Thomas Fong Jr., Freeman Blake, Louis Vaccaro, William Sullivan, Everett Jensen, Mrs. Martin L. Roth, William Hughes, James G. Workman, Martin Zernicke, and Paul Mills of Terra Linda, who is manager of the Bank of American branch in Fairfax.

Council members Adelaide P. Wilson and Robert R. Souza were named to serve as council representatives on the committee.

Exposition Will Have Many Facets

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The California Exposition, which will open in June 1968, will be a combination of a world's fair, state fair amusement park, food circus and Mardi Gras.

So said Architect Donn Emmons yesterday at a news conference. With him as plans were shown for the all-year exposition was Lawrence Halprin, the new program's landscape architect.

Halprin also said the exposition "will be like Tivoli Gardens (in Copenhagen)."

"Not in the specific sense," he added, "but in the sense that it's so wonderful—a mixture, in a dignified way, of all the elements of fun, pleasure and culture."

Financed by $13 million in revenue bonds approved by the Legislature and from the eventual sale of the present State Fairgrounds and the lease of 370 surplus acres, the exposition is being built along the American River near Sacramento.

What happened to the windshield wipers?

Hood-mounted tachometer.

Stereo tape player.

Pontiac Motor Division

And we love our work. So much so that we couldn't bear to stop with the slickest-looking split grille ever to grace a Wide-Track. (Or any other car, for that matter.)

We went ahead and made the windshield wipers disappear. The car not only looks cleaner, but the wipers are less subject to icing and freezing, too.

Then we got rid of the vent windows on all Grand Prix hardtops. We replaced them with nifty monograms and a flow-through ventilation system.

We even designed a rather unique hood-mounted tachometer option that's available on all Pontiacs. As are our other bright new options like our eight-track stereo tape player and AM-FM Stereo-Multiplex radio. And, of course, our handsome interiors have to be seen to be believed. All Pontiacs have standard safety features that include a dual master cylinder brake system with warning light, outside rearview mirror, and GM's energy absorbing steering column.

Isn't it time you decided to see your Pontiac dealer? If you love our work the way we do, it's the least you can do.

English Dragnet Traps Police-Killer Suspect

BISHOPS STORTFORD, England (AP)—Harry Maurice Roberts, last of the three men wanted for the slaying of three London policemen, was arrested today.

Announcing the end of the three-month hunt, a Scotland Yard spokesman said Roberts was arrested without a fight.

A Scotland Yard spokesman, announcing the end of the three-month hunt, said:

"Harry Roberts was arrested about 11:45 a.m. today during the course of a full-scale search mounted by Hertfordshire, Metropolitan and Essex officers."

"Robert was detained without a struggle and is now in custody."

The seizure came 24 hours after the trial opened at the Old Bailey Courthouse of Roberts' friends, John Duddy, 37, and John Edward Whitney, 36.

They are charged with gunning down the three policemen within the shadow of London's Wormwood Scrubs Prison Aug. 12.

Scarfaced Roberts, who police say was with them, has been on the run since. The biggest police hunt in British criminal history was launched to find him.

The murder of the three British policemen, who had stopped to question three men and were in plain clothes, stirred the country. Wanton slayings of police officers — they do not carry weapons except on rare occasions—are rare.

Sweet Smelling Exhaust Fumes

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Sweet-scented additives are being put in the fuel systems of Albuquerque's city buses in an attempt to eliminate foul smelling exhaust fumes.

The experiment — going on for about a week — is proving successful, said Thomas Burke, transit system director.

"I just smell the difference on Central Avenue," he challenged. Bystanders on that main thoroughfare said they couldn't.

Two Doctors, Mrs. Shriver Honored For Health Works

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Sidney Farber, a professor of pathology at Harvard Medical School, and Dr. George E. Palade, a professor at Rockefeller University in New York, were named today as winners of the 1966 Albert Lasker Medical Research Awards.

Eunice Kennedy Shriver, executive vice president of the Joseph P. Kennedy Foundation, was named the winner of the Albert Lasker Public Service Award in Health for her support of national legislation to improve the care of the mentally retarded and her effective dedication to their cause.

Mrs. Shriver is the wife of Sargent Shriver, director of the federal Office of Economic Opportunity, and sister of the late President John F. Kennedy.

Farber, winner of the clinical research award, was cited for his original use of the drugs aminopterin and methotrexate in the control of acute childhood leukemia, and for his leadership in the search for chemical agents effective against cancer.

Palade was given the basic medical research award for his pioneering investigations into the structure and functions of a cell and its various components.

Winner of the Miss America contest gets a $10,000 college scholarship and other benefits totalling about $100,000.

Youth Crimes Said Growing

NEW YORK (AP)—Former U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach told the annual dinner of the YMCA of Greater New York last night that lawlessness of youth is the largest, most stubborn and fastest growing source of crime in the nation.

"It could easily accelerate into national tragedy," Katzenbach warned. He said one of every six boys under 18 has been taken to juvenile court for at least one offense.

Katzenbach said he was speaking as chairman of the President's Commission on Crime and the Administration of Justice and as former attorney general. He recently was named undersecretary of state.

Dog Owner Asked To Contact Dept.

Marin County Health Department has requested that the owner of a Cocker Spaniel dog, which bit four-year-old Deborah Booth of Woodacre at about 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in front of Lucky Store in Fairfax, notify the county health department.

Mrs. Theodore Booth of 108 Carson Road, Woodacre, said she talked to a woman who owned the dog but, in the rush to seek first aid for her daughter, forgot to get her name. The dog was called Louis, she said.

GLA$S TECHNOLOGY

Heating glass flask over hydrogen burner, before proceeding with next operation.

Modern man, in search of new ways of doing his job quicker, constantly develops new methods to help him toward this goal.

Even in the ancient art of shaping glass, new mass production methods like automatic molds, drills and grinders help speed production.

But not so at the Glass Technology Laboratory at the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis where the 2,000-year-old method of glass blowing is still used for both instruction and production.

Glass forming works on the principle that when glass is heated, it can by various methods be formed into any shape the worker wants. The shaping method runs from the automated variety used by many of today's glass manufacturers to the oldest and most basic technique, used by the University.

At the University they begin with various sizes and shapes of glass already commercially produced, seal one end to make it air tight and place a hose in the other end. The part of the glass to be shaped is heated over a hydrogen burner to make it soft. When it is pliable the worker blows through the hose into the tube until the heated glass bulges outward. A paddle-shaped tool made of carbon is used to reform or take off excess glass.

Under the direction of its manager, Marvin Dynes, the University glass laboratory custom builds and repairs all specialized glass instruments needed by the school and does research and development on new glass products.

The laboratory is student-staffed. Each student attends required University courses leading to a degree in glass technology. The more advanced students work on research and development, while beginning students learn basic glass techniques by working on smaller, routine glass orders.

Sealing end of graduate and adding glass hose connector. Blowing keeps inside pressure even.

Three-necked flask from a standard-stock neck: breaking bubble leaves neck-sized hole. Standard neck is attached.

Using lathe and carbon paddle, trainee cuts long glass tube into custom-size container.

More Athletes Hurt; Doctor Opposes Ban

Injuries to two more scholastic football players in Marin County were reported yesterday, but the physician who treated them criticized a colleague's suggestion that the sport be banned.

Both of the injured youths attend San Rafael Military Academy. They were hurt, although not seriously, in the academy's last game of the season Saturday against Menlo School.

DOCTOR'S VIEWS

Dr. Edward Cook of San Rafael, who treated them at Marin General Hospital, said Dave Page, 17, a star end and a junior at the academy, suffered strained knee ligaments, while Dennis Cook, an 18-year-old guard, suffered a slight bone chip in his leg.

Cook, who is physician to the San Rafael High School football team, termed the injuries common for football, and said the youths would be fit again in about two weeks. The Page youth is on crutches.

At the same time, Cook said he opposed abolition of hight school football because of injuries, saying the percentage of serious injuries when compared to the numbers who play the game is "fantatistically low."

However, Cook deplored the tactics of some coaches in encouraging rough and illegal play.

'SPORT IS SAFER'

"Gang-tackling and late-hitting have no part in football," he said. "You'll find that this is when a lot of injuries occur."

Cook's position against ending the sport was shared by Dr. Elmer A. Weden Jr. of San Rafael, team physician to Terra Linda High School.

"Boys who play high school football are the most physically fit in the school," he said, "and the sport is a great deal safer, statistically speaking, than anything else they would likely be doing."

Weden recalled two incidents in Marin high schools in the past two years in which a boy suffered a broken neck in a gymnasium mishap and a girl died in another sports accident, but he said he knew of no comparable injury in football.

The recommendation that high school football be discontinued was made last week by Dr. Richard W. Walker, physician of Novato High School's football teams, after two of his players were hurt in games with the Terra Linda freshman and junior varsity teams.

One, John Eric Gauthier, 14, of 15 Jackson Court, Novato, a freshman fullback, remained in Marin General Hospital today with a head injury. His condition was reported as good.

Members Of Boat Camp On Island

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The captain and crew of a Greek freighter that ran aground have left the ship to camp out on San Clemente Island, above the vessel.

The 26 crewmen and their captain left the White Eagle yesterday when high seas and an impending storm threatened. The Greek sailors probably will be returned to their homes in Greece in several days, said a spokesman for General Steamship Co., agents for the ship.

Officials still haven't decided whether to salvage the 441-foot ship.

Cook Changes Plea To Guilty In Murders

MARTINEZ (AP) — Dennis Stanworth, 24, a fry cook, pleaded guilty yesterday to raping and murdering two girls at nearby Pinole Aug. 3.

He previously had pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity in the deaths of Susan Box and Caree Collison, both 15.

His reversal came after psychiatrists at Napa State Hospital found him sane and able to stand trial.

Judge Norman Gregg in Superior Court set a hearing for Friday to determine the degree of the two murders. If the judge decides, on the basis of testimony before the grand jury that the killings were first degree murder, Stanworth could be sentenced to death or life in prison.

Small Radio Stolen

Richard Yager of 522 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, told Corte Madera police someone took a $15 transistor radio from the garage of the Philips 66 station on Tamalpais Drive yesterday between 8 and 8:30 p.m.

Population Up; Now 19 Million

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —Nearly one-tenth of the nation's population is living in California.

In a report released yesterday, the state Finance Department estimated mid-1966 population in California at 19,195,000, or 9.8 per cent of the people in the 50 states. The figure represented a 469,000 increase over the estimated mid-1965 population.

The report, entitled "California Population 1966," also disclosed that women in the state outnumber men in all age groups over 17 years.

It said the median age of California women and girls this year was 29.8 while that of men and boys was 27.7, because of lower mortality rates for females.

Marin Landscaper Wins National Award

Michael Painter of 7 Dawn Place, Mill Valley, has been named winner of the Industrial Landscape Award, given by the American Assn. of Nurserymen, for his landscape design of College of San Mateo while working for John Carl Warnecke and Associates of San Francisco.

The award was to be presented today by Lady Bird Johnson at the Washington, D.C., meeting of the nurserymen's association. In the last year, Painter has received five national awards, including two for his design at College of San Mateo.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Composer Is Visitor In Marin

By MOLLY MARIN

The composer, LeRoy Robertson, visited Marin County this weekend as the houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Foris.

He made the trip here from Utah to hear Tossy Spivakovsky play the first Bay Area performance of his Concerto for Violin and Orchestra at Sunday night's Marin Symphony concert.

He wrote this concerto for the centennial anniversary of the University of Utah and it was first performed on Feb. 27, 1950, by Tibor Zelig and the Utah Symphony Orchestra under Maurice Abravanel. The concerto was revised in 1961, and near the end of that year it was played and recorded in its new version by Tossy Spivakovsky and the Utah Symphony Orchestra under Abravanel.

AMONG THOSE entertaining before the Jewel Ball Saturday were several Marinites — The Martin Woods were cocktail hosts to Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Silvestri Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Marco Vinella and Dr. and Mrs. John Jansheski. Others who were hosts to friends were the Donlon Gabrielsens, the Martin Waterfields and Elmer S. Albrittons. The ball was attended by many Marin members of the sponsoring San Francisco Auxiliary to the Stanford Children's Convalescent Hospital.

MRS. ROBERT M. GUNN will be hostess at a small luncheon tomorrow preceding the program to be given by San Francisco restaurateur George Mardikian at the Sausalito Woman's Club.

MRS. H. RAYMOND BARKER was hostess at a tea last week for Mrs. Albert Purcell, former resident of Sausalito now living temporarily in Denver, Colo. Guests were some of her longtime friends who were glad to have the opportunity to see her again while she was in Sausalito briefly.

THE HOME OF MRS. MASON ROSENTHAL on Belvedere's West Shore was the setting for a luncheon Thursday for members and guests of Sunny Hills Guild No. 5 of Belvedere. Special guests were Mrs. Harry Duncan, chairman of the five Belvedere guilds, and Mesdames Margaret Brewster, William Mullinex, Michael Lasky and Raymond Jasek.

BEING FETED at many parties is Mrs. Norman Grist of Glasgow, Scotland, sister of Mrs. Edwin S. Long of Sausalito, with whom she is staying while her husband is in Washington, D.C. Dr. Grist, a professor of virology at the University of Glasgow Medical School, is lecturing for the World Health Organization in Washington.

Last week, Mrs. Long had a small sherry party, inviting women her sister had met previously, some of whom she had entertained in Glasgow. A trip to Carmel is one of the next events on the calendar for Mrs. Grist.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN V. BUCKLEY of Mill Valley will be hosts Saturday evening at a dinner party at their home honoring their daughter, Jennifer, and her fiance, Timothy Traviss Gilmore. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gilmore of Sonoma.

The couple will be married on Dec. 17 in the chapel of the Mill Valley Community Church with immediate family only attending. Both are attending San Francisco State College.

ENTERTAINING FOR the Harrison Leppos of Mill Valley, who have just returned from an extensive trip to Europe, were Judge and Mrs. Jordan Martinelli, who were hosts at dinner. The Leppos will be honored Thursday by the Ralph Noahs, who have invited friends for cocktails and dinner at their Belvedere home.

DINNER HOSTS Sunday were Judge and Mrs. Harry Neubarth, who entertained a small group.

GUESTS AT the Santa Venetia home of Mr. and Mrs. Alden F. Fleming have been Dr. and Mrs. Frank R. Hurlbutt, who were returning to their home in Honolulu after spending three weeks on vacation in New England. Dr. Hurlbutt's former home. Mrs. Hurlbutt, the former Georgia Whitely Morris, lived for many years in San Rafael and enjoyed seeing longtime friends.

AMONG THE INTERESTING experiences the Oscar Olsens of Bolinas will have during their forthcoming three-month visit to Bangkok, Thailand, will be a meeting with the King and Queen of Thailand. They will visit their daughter and son-in-law, who is teaching the people how to set up government as part of the United States A.I.D. program there. His headquarters are in the royal palace. En route the Olsens will stop at Honolulu and Tokyo. During their absence their son will occupy their home in Bolinas.

BACK IN BELVEDERE after a year away are Mr. and Mrs. Mac Boyle Lewis. They spent three months touring South America, including a visit with their son "young Mac" who is working for an oil company in Equador. The rest of the time they spent in Southern Europe, with leisurely side trips to Greece, Yugoslavia, Italy and Spain. A highlight of their year was their stay with family friends, the Henriques de Lunas on their centuries-old land holdings at Val de Penas in the La Mancha district of Spain. The home is in the Don Quixote country, off the tourist path, and their hosts were so gracious that this was a delightful experience for the Marin visitors.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Father Signs For A Vacuum To Tune Of $400 And Mom's Yells

DEAR HELEN:

A while back a vacuum cleaner salesman came to our door. My mother said she didn't want one, but he came in anyway.

Then he proceeded to sell my father on the cleaner, even though my mother told him (my father) she would break all his fingers if he signed the contract.

He signed anyway, after the salesman told her to leave him alone. She threatened to slap the salesman, but that made my father all the more determined to buy. She explained that we could not afford a $400 vacuum cleaner.

My mother has written to the company but has not heard from them. She tried to read the contract but it doesn't make much sense. Is there anything she can do? —HELP

DEAR HELP:

If your father signed a contract, there is little he can do but pay for the machine; or let it go back—which will put a black mark on his credit rating.

However, if your mother can prove undue sales pressure, she should register a complaint with the Better Business Bureau, or the Consumer Counsel in her state. A salesman who twists the arm of the gullible sex (males, natch) should have his fingers rapped. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

I got a problem. I am visiting my brother-in-law, the one and only fink, and my sister who is a nice lady. I get static on how much I eat. I do not get fat; this is what I have for an average day:

Breakfast: two eggs, bowl of cereal, two slices of toast, a bagel and sausage.

Lunch: Three sandwiches, punch, toast.

Dinner: Four hamburgers and three dips of potatoes (my dips —well, they are not like your dips).

My b-in-l says it's unbelievable. I am still alive, so I guess I'm not that strange. Should I go on a starvation diet just for him? —HUNGRY GROWING BOY.

DEAR HGB:

It would be pretty cruel depriving you of the goodies that keep your stomach away from your backbone, but it's pretty expensive providing them. Maybe your visit has lasted long enough and you should go home and eat. H.

DEAR HELEN:

My friends have told me that if a girl wears a bracelet on her right ankle she is looking for a boy friend, but if she wears it on her left ankle, she already has a boy friend.

Others say it's vice versa. Please tell me, which is which? —A.N.

DEAR A:

Frankly, I don't know—but I bet I'll find out as soon as this column is published.

Any information from anklet etiquette experts will be greatly appreciated. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

My sister will be married soon and wants a big wedding, with white dress, etc. I always heard you shouldn't wear white unless you deserve to wear it. But if she wears a color, that's shouting it out, isn't it? So what to do? —H.D.R.

DEAR H:

You heard wrong. White may be chosen even for a second-marriage bridal dress. Why don't you stop worrying about what doesn't concern you? —H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of The Independent-Journal.

West Marin Pupils Due Less Bus Riding

Primary grade pupils in the West Marin School District should be divided between the Inverness and Point Reyes schools by attendance areas, starting next year, Supt. Howard F. Brose told the district board last night.

Brose's proposal, which trustees called logical, would place first through third grade classes at both Inverness and West Marin schools, running from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. daily.

Kindergarten and fourth through eighth grade classes would continue at West Marin School. All first and second graders now attend Inverness School and all others attend West Marin.

Brose said the present system requires that youngsters from far corners of the district leave for school at 7:45 a.m. and return home at 4:30 p.m. "and that makes it a darned long day."

Under the plan Brose is proposing, the buses would take all primary youngsters home at 2:30 p.m., then return to transport the fourth through eighth grade youngsters.

West Marin School District Board also:

1. Called for bids on a new 55-passenger bus to replace that now serving the Inverness area. Brose said it will cost about $12,000, less trade-in.

2. Hired John Oliver, who just returned from the Peace Corps in Africa and taught in the San Anselmo School District before that, as an upper grade teacher at $7,200 annually.

3. Agreed to pay custodian Albert Schrock mileage if he uses his truck on school district business.

4. Met in closed session for five minutes, then refused a proposed inter-district agreement to reject attendance by a youngster expelled from a nearby district.

Trustees Joseph F. Joyce and Donald J. McIsaac were absent.

Firemen Plan Annual Dance

One of the oldest groups in Marin County, Mill Valley Assn. of Volunteer Firemen, will hold its 71st annual dance Saturday from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the community and youth center on Sycamore Avenue Extension.

Proceeds from the dance go to the sick and relief fund for firemen and their families, and equipment for the department.

A five-piece band from the Walter G. Tolleson organization of San Francisco will play. Tickets are available at the fire station and will be sold at the door.

John Brebner Will Head 1967 Festival

John Brebner of Sausalito, owner of a San Francisco theatrical casting agency, was re-elected last night to a third one-year term as president of the Marin Shakespeare Festival.

Also re-elected were Robert W. Pendergrass, vice president, and Fred H. Brylka, treasurer. Phyllis Knecht was elected secretary, succeeding Ann Brebner.

Two new directors, Hugh McCann and George Nicholadze, were elected to the board.

Festival directors met at the Crocker-Citizens National Bank in San Rafael. In addition to election of officers, there was preliminary discussion of next season's festival.

New San Rafael Firehouse Will Be Dedicated Saturday

San Rafael's newest firehouse—and probably the last for some time—will be formally dedicated Saturday.

It is Station 5 at 955 San Pedro Road in the Glenwood area. According to Fire Chief Vance Trivett, "It brings us up to 100 per cent coverage of the district as far as firehouses are concerned."

The station will be open to the public for tours of inspection after the dedication by former Mayor John F. McInnis, scheduled to start at 11 a.m.

Unlike other firehouses in the area, the new building—in use since Aug. 15—will not be dedicated to anyone in particular.

Color honors will be performed by members of the Native Sons of the Golden West. Presidents of local homeowners associations are being invited to attend.

Bidding for the $80,000 fire station ran into difficulty last December when bids were rejected by the city council as being too high.

Modifications were made to the plans by architect Roger F. Hooper, and a low bid by contractor Joseph DiGiorgio and Son of San Rafael was accepted in May.

One innovation incorporated into the new fire station is a single fiberglas door instead of the traditional two wooden doors.

"This will let considerably more light into the building and will need less maintenance than wooden doors," said Trivett.

The National Center for Atmospheric Research, located in Boulder, Colo., has contracted with the Air Force for an independent inquiry into unidentified flying objects.

Claude Felland Asks Retraction

Claude Felland of 111 Bolinas Avenue, Ross, through attorney Jay R. McMahon of Freitas, Allen, McCarthy and Bettini, has demanded that the Independent-Journal retract statements made by Alvin G. Holland of Corte Madera in a letter to the editor.

Holland's letter, published Nov. 2, was in reply to an earlier letter by Felland. It concerned a dispute within the Painters Union.

Felland contends statements about him in Holland's letter were "untrue and libelous per se."

Annual Meeting

Muir Woods Park Improvement Assn. will hold its annual meeting and election of officers at 8 p.m. Friday at the club on Ridge Avenue. Also on the agenda is discussion of proposed consolidation of police services in unincorporated areas of the county.

Catholic Bishops To Study Meatless Friday Pros, Cons

WASHINGTON (AP) — The question of meat on Friday for the nation's Roman Catholics comes up today at an extraordinary conference of bishops.

The 219 American prelates turn their attention to this issue after:

Accusing the Johnson administration of coercing the poor to practice birth control.

Using a computing machine to conduct the first election in their history. Archbishop John F. Dearden of Detroit was chosen president of the episcopal conference, granted new powers by Pope Paul VI and the Ecumenical Council at Rome.

One of the issues up to the bishops, archbishops and cardinals is whether American Catholics must continue to abstain from meat on Friday, or whether some other form of penance, such as prayer and good works, may be substituted.

It already has been abandoned in some countries, including Canada, Italy and France.

On the birth control issue, Bishop Raymond J. Gallagher of Lafayette, Ind., a spokesman for the prelates, told a news conference: "We have the spectre of the government offering below minimum relief to the poor with one hand while the other is filled with contraceptives."

Five Found Dead, In Santa Cruz Home

SANTA CRUZ (AP) — The mystery of the quiet deaths of five persons—a couple and three young girls—went to a pathologist today for solution.

The five neatly dressed bodies were found yesterday softly tucked away in beds in the living room of a recently rented home in a middle class neighborhood in Santa Cruz.

A sign on the front door warned, "Invalid, Do Not Disturb."

Police said Robert Conway, 43, was the invalid and had a terminal illness. They did not say what.

Found in one bed with him was Ada Lynn Mowry, 31. In another bed were the bodies of the three Mowry girls—Stephanie Joan, 10; Anne Marie, 11, and Debra Lynn, 12.

Police said there was no sign of violence, the gas stove was not turned on and there was no sign of force entry.

Conway's former wife, Pat Conway Schorsch, had rented the home to him and had been invited for lunch yesterday. When she appeared there was no answer at the door. She went back to work at a chewing gum factory and was urged to phone the police by her co-workers.

Police Chief Geno Pino said the deaths occurred at about 8:30 p.m. Sunday night.

Pino said the five had moved into the house two weeks ago from Idaho. He said he believed they came here from Coeur d'Alene. They still were arranging furniture and the beds apparently had been set up in the living room on a temporary basis.

Sentence Given On Auto Theft

Larry Cleary Walker, 18, serving one to five years in state prison for auto theft, yesterday was scheduled in Marin Superior Court for jury trial the week of Jan. 9 for strong-arm robbery.

He is accused of grabbing Ralph J. Bowers of Lancaster, Los Angeles County, at Town and Country Village in Strawberry on Feb. 3, making off with $112.

Walker, formerly of 31 Cole Drive, Marin City, was convicted of the car theft June 1.

Pollster Files $1 Million Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A $1 million damage suit has been filed against the American Broadcasting Co. and a Los Angeles news commentator for unauthorized use of a voter preference poll.

Field Research Corp. charged yesterday in Superior Court that Baxter Ward, a KABC-TV commentator, maliciously appropriated the poll, which Field said was to be used only by subscribers to the Field research service.

The suit charged that Field suffered "great business humiliation, embarrassment and loss of reputation" by the ABC station's use of its poll Nov. 3 on the Nov. 8 California election.

Variance Hearing

A variance from off-street parking requirements to convert the Gate Theater on Bridgeway to commercial use will be heard at 8 p.m. today by Sausalito City Council in city hall. The planning commission approved the variance Nov. 2 on condition that the developer, D. Mordant, make a payment to a city fund to be used to build parking lots.

What's different about Dark Bourbon?
It looks darker.
The flavor's richer.
The flavor's smoother.
The flavor's deeper.
Let's get something straight. Dark Bourbon is not for everybody. But a lot of people have asked us if we couldn't make a really BOURBONY-Bourbon... with a flavor that goes deeper. To make it, we developed a unique new recipe based on a hand-made sour mash method. A method perfected by over four generations of know-how. The result—a Bourbon virile and robust, a shade darker in color, but incredibly smooth and mellow. Not for every taste, we repeat—but for those who want all the flavor, try Hill & Hill Preferred, the dark one!

Terra Linda, Tam Dominate All-Marin Football Squad

Co-champion Terra Linda and runner-up Tamalpais dominated selections for the 1966 All-Marin County Athletic League football team, landing seven players each on the 22-man offensive and defensive team.

Oddly enough, co-champ Drake, the team that appeared strongest at the end of the season, managed only three first-team choices, one on offense and two on defense.

Fourth-place San Rafael placed three on the team, winless Marin Catholic had two and Redwood had one choice. The defending champion Novato Hornets failed to place a player on either the defensive or offensive team.

There were only four unanimous picks, two each on offense and defense. Tam's hard-running Mike Fowler and Terra Linda halfback Paul Lee turned the trick on offense while Trojan linebacker Jim Sherbert and Drake defensive halfback Karl Stein were unanimous choices on defense.

Only five juniors cracked the elite lineup. They were Fowler, Marin Catholic's valiant halfback Jim Finnegan, Terra Linda tackle Greg Barker, the Trojans' tenacious defensive end Bruce Kilby and Tamalpais middle guard John Cathey.

Offensive statistics apparently had little effect on the final pickings as the league passing and rushing leaders were left by the wayside.

Tam quarterback Steve Woodward, the league's leading passer yardage and percentage-wise, made way for San Rafael's consistent Bill Joost and Drake's Tom Mauer, the top rusher in MCAL play was relegated to an honorable mention role.

In addition to Stein, Drake also landed its mammoth duo of Jerry Sprout and Bill Hickerson on the dream team. The 6-5, 235-pound Sprout was named to an offensive tackle spot for the second straight year while the 234-pound Hickerson was picked as a defensive guard, making his second straight appearance on the all-league team.

The one-two finishers in pass receiving made the select 22. Tam's Mike Biber, who caught 58 passes for 1,026 yards and foot-4, 205-pound Jim Seymour, is an outstanding player, Daugherty said.

"He has height and such

Clay Slaughters Big Cat; Terrell Next In Line

Overhead United Press International camera catches Cleveland Williams being decked in third round by Cassius Clay in Houston last night.

Record Mob Sees Third Round TKO

By MURRAY ROSE

HOUSTON (AP) — After battering Cleveland Williams from a big cat into a puny mouse in a little more than two rounds, heavyweight champion Cassius Clay turned to Ernie Terrell and shouted, "You're next."

"I'm ready," said Terrell, the 6-foot-6, 27-year-old Chicagoan who is recognized as champion by the World Boxing Assn.

They are expected to meet on Feb. 6, at Houston, Chicago, New York, Las Vegas or Toronto.

Houston has the edge now after drawing an indoor record crowd of 35,460 to the magnificent Astrodome. The gross gate was $461,290.

The undefeated, 24-year-old Clay floored the 33-year-old Big Cat from Houston three times in the second round and once more in the third round before referee Harry Kessler of St. Louis ended the slaughter with the blood-smeared Williams wobbling on rubbery legs. The time was announced at 1:08 of the third.

"Terrell is next," shouted Clay in his dressing room. "He says he's a fighter and a singer. I'm a better singer as well as a better fighter. My main objective was to hit and not be hit. was able to do that. I think they could have stopped the fight earlier.

"I made one big mistake," said Williams, a 5-1 underdog. "I dropped my left hand and he nailed me. I don't know why I did it."

Clay, strong and fast at 212¾ pounds, shot his right hand over and decked the 210½-pound challenger for the first time in the second round. Williams was up at two and took the mandatory eight count.

Barrage Fells Dazed Challenger

A barrage of blows, unleashed by Clay with the speed of machinegun fire, felled the dazed challenger again for two. The third knockdown came on another flashing volley and Williams went flat on his back.

The bell sounded at five and saved Williams from a knockout. In New York, some other states and in some other parts of the world the count is continued when a round ends. Williams also was saved by the waiving of the three-knockdowns in one round and you're out rule.

Williams did not use a mouthpiece and suffered cuts inside and outside of his mouth. His mouth was bruised and bleeding.

"My plan for the fight was to punch — and you saw it," said Clay, obviously determined to show up to critics who say he can't punch.

His punching didn't impress Terrell.

"If that had been me in the ring you would have seen Clay on the floor instead of Williams," he said. "You were looking at a Williams 34 or 35 years old, a man who was wounded and once weighed 159 pounds.

"It is not the same Williams that I fought. A man is stupid if he thinks he can come back after what he went through."

Williams, a noted puncher who had scored 51 knockouts, was shot and his insides torn by a policeman's bullet (still in his hip) two years ago. He was given up for dead but recovered after three operations.

Some Consolation: $250,000 Pay

Since his return to the ring in February, Williams won four fights, two by knockouts, over nobodies. He didn't look impressive but said he had regained his old power. He showed nothing against the invincible boxing master from Louisville, Ky.

It was Clay's sixth title defense within a year and only Canadian champion George Chuvalo went the limit. Clay's record is 27-0 including 22 knockouts.

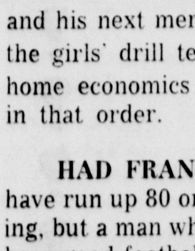
Williams' record is 65-6-1. He has been stopped four times.

The ring-scarred veteran of 16-years of pro fighting had the consolation of a payday of about $250,000. Clay's share of the gate receipts and the closed circuit television, radio, films and other ancillary rights, may hit about $750,000.

The crowd, paying from $5 to $50, topped the mark of 23,306 lured by Henry Armstrongand Fritzie Zivic at Madison Square Garden, Jan. 17, 1941 although the gross receipts were not a record.

The indoor live gate record of $511,010 was racked up for the third heavyweight title fight between Floyd Patterson and Ingemar Johansson at Miami Beach's Convention Hall March 13, 1961.

The fans booed Clay when he stepped into the ring and gave Williams, a Houston favorite son, a rousing ovation. That was the last time they really had a chance to give the Cat a big hand.



ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

Drake's Franceschini Highly Respected As A Man And Coach

BUM RAP—Sour gripes produce bitter whine so that was an acrid scene at midfield after Drake's 53-0 victory over Marin Catholic last Friday.

A Marin Catholic official who obviously knows as much about football as I do about physics charged Drake Coach Bob Franceschini of "pouring it on." That's an unfair crack at one of the most respected coaches in the county. Franceschini wouldn't pour it on a rattlesnake. Morally and professionally he is a champion.

LAST FRIDAY he did everything in his power to control the score, including using players out of their normal positions and scrubs who lead the league in bench-warming. He cleared his bench of reserves and his next merciful act would have been to suit up the girls' drill team, the debating squad, the varsity home economics class and Principal Harold Allison, in that order.

HAD FRANCESCHINI so desired, Drake could have run up 80 or 90 points. Fifty-three is overwhelming, but a man who has spent years of his life teaching boys good football cannot suddenly tell them to deliberately fumble, throw intercepted passes, run the wrong way, miss blocks and tackles or let the air out of the ball.

During the third period last Friday Franceschini turned to assistant coach Carl Brown and said: "I hope we don't score any more. I feel sorry for them."

MARIN CATHOLIC poured coal on its own fire twice by going for yardage on fourth down situations in its own territory. Naturally, the outmanned Wildcats failed.

The game and post-game charges tarnished another great season for Drake. Seniors, playing their last game, had to be benched because of the inadequate opposition. The traditional coaches' ride off the field on their players' shoulders was cancelled and the locker room was like a morgue. The coach was kicked below the belt and the players felt it.

IT'S TOO bad a responsible person has to pop off with a lousy, untrue crack before a crowd of fine athletes, coaches, parents and fans.

However, the autumn wasn't a complete bust for us mackeral-snappers. Notre Dame's 64-0 squeeker over Duke last Saturday and Marin Catholic's 50-16 Class C basketball victory over Drake a few weeks ago were great victories.

Now, if you'll excuse me, I've got to go to confession.

BIG GAME SATURDAY

Cal Crusade: Stop Lewis

By JACK STEVENSON

BERKELEY (AP) — Coach Ray Willsey of California hopes the third time will be the charm.

For Saturday marks the third Big Game coaching effort for him against Stanford and the Bears have yet to win.

In fact, they haven't won the past five.

Willsey told the Northern California Football Writers yesterday he expects another excellent football game and hopes for the charm.

Defensively, he looks for ways to stop the Indians' Dave Lewis and he also needs replacements for his defensive line. Sam Hard underwent surgery on Sunday a knee injury and Larry Lathrop is hampered by a bad ankle.

"Lewis has turned in good games two years in a row against California," Willsey pointed out. "He can run, throw and kick. Gene Washington is as exciting a runner as you'll see, a lot of dance in his legs."

Stanford Coach John Ralston said Lewis will start at quarterback and the sophomore Washington, recovered from a shoulder injury, will also see service.

"We have to get ready for an all-out defensive effort," the Stanford coach declared. "Cal has improved steadily with its attack. Rick Bennett has good speed. Jim Sheridan and Dan Berry are good runners and Frank Lynch is a solid blocker.

"With John Beasley, Lloyd Reist and Jerry Bradley, who can break up any game, they have a good passing attack with Barry Bronk throwing to them."

Ralston said he hoped Bill Shoemaker, his sophomore halfback and field goal kicker, will be able to go at full speed and has shaken off effects of an ankle injury.

Although complimenting UCLA's great halfback Mel Farr, the Stanford coach felt the six fumbles lost by the Indians were the reason they lost 10-0 to the Uclans, putting their record at 4-5.

California went to 3-6 with a 6-3 loss to Army in what Willsey termed "a frustrating and disappointing afternoon."

He is pleased with the work of several sophomores including the linebacker named co-back-of-the-week by the writers. He shared honors with Rudy Lapera who plays the same position for San Francisco State. Bob Toledo of S.F. State was named the outstanding back.

Toledo threw two touchdown passes in a 22-17 victory over Humboldt, the latter in the final two minutes.

Harry Anderson of San Jose, a 27-7 loser to Utah State, said, "We prepared for cold weather and even took tennis shoes in case the ground was frozen. It turned out not a bad day. Maybe we had concentrated on the weather too much and not enough on football."

The Spartans play host this Saturday afternoon to a Fresno State team which edged UOP 16-14.

"We've only beaten them twice in the last six years," Anderson recalled.

300 Attend Last Rites For Erdelatz

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— More than 300 persons paid final respects yesterday to Eddie Erdelatz, who coached Navy to some of its great moments of football.

Erdelatz died last Thursday following surgery for stomach cancer. He was 52.

Services for Erdelatz, a native of the San Francisco Bay Area, were held at St. Cecilia's Church and burial followed at Holy Cross Cemetery. Rev. John Tierney of San Rafael officiated.

Erdelatz was an All-America gridder at little St. Mary's College. He was assistant coach at St. Mary's, San Francisco, Navy and for the San Francisco 49ers. He was head coach of the Naval Academy for nine years in the 1950s and also led the Oakland Raiders during their first year in the American Football League.

His services were attended by such famous football figures as Ernie Nevers, Frankie Albert, Norm Standlee, and San Francisco 49er Coach Jack Christiansen.

Marin Catholic's Banquet Thursday

Marin Catholic's annual Fall Sport's Banquet will be held in the school cafeteria Thursday at 7 p.m.

Teams to be honored will be the varsity football, junior varsity football, frosh football, C basketball and cross country.

Michigan State Fears Irish Runners In Game Of Year

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — For the game of the year, Michigan State Coach Duffy Daugherty came up with the understatement of the year:

"At least this week we don't have the danger of looking by one game.

"And we don't have the problem of anyone saying, 'How much are you going to beat them by?" the coach of the nation's No. 2 ranked team said yesterday, five days before it plays the nation's No. 1 team — Notre Dame.

"I assuume we'll be the underdog," he added.

He called the game a great opportunity.

"I can't remember once in the history of the polls that the No. 1 and 2 teams met in the final game of the season," he said.

Daugherty was worried about stopping Notre Dame's running because, he noted, they can always pass. And he was worried about the Irish passing because, he added, they disguise their pass plays by faking runs.

Michigan State should be in good health for the battle for the national championship, Daughterty said.

Fullback Bob Apisa, who missed two games with a knee sprain, is expected to be ready to play, even if he doesn't start. Defensive linemen Phil Hoag and Nick Jordan are expected to recover from minor injuries suffered Saturday in MSU's 37-19 victory over Indiana.

Duffy isn't too worried about the squad's mental condition either.

"I don't think there are any limits to desire and exuberance," he said. "I don't think you run out of this."

Daugherty indicated his squad probably would go behind closed gates for the serious part of their daily workouts.

"I want to have concentration," he said. "I want them prepared to play the best game they can possibly play. All we can do is hope that's good enough."

East Lansing may not be the perfect place for concentration. MSU's press box chiefs say a record 211 sports writers have signed up for space, and large numbers of writers already were arriving yesterday.

Has this game received the biggest build-up ever?

"People have been asking me about it since last year," Daugherty said. But, concentrating on the Big Ten race, he refused to comment about it before Saturday.

A light plane was circling the campus three days before the season started, towing a banner saying: "Go Irish, Beat State."

At the time, Daugherty said only: "I can see overlooking one opponent, but eight?"

After Indiana's Frank Stavroff set a Big Ten record by passing for 316 yards against MSU Saturday, the talk turned to the Spartans' pass defense.

Daugherty pointed out that first stringers were out of the game for much of the second half, when Stavroff picked up two-thirds of his passing yardage.

The slippery field favored the pass receivers, he said, and also was a dangerous field for injuries. So he pulled standout linebackers George Webster and Charles Thornhill out of the lineup for the last 20 minutes and "they mean a great deal to our pass defense."

"There was nothing wrong with our pass defense in the first half," Daugherty said.

"And you'd have to say our passing game was more effective than Stavroff's," he added.

Spartan quarterback Jimmy Raye completed seven of nine passes for 171 yards and three touchdowns.

"Our pass receivers were sometimes open by 10 yards," Daugherty said.

Powerless And Colorless Dodgers Lose Again, 4-1

NAGOYA, Japan (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers, lacking the power and color that helped them win the 1966 National League pennant, suffered their third straight setback by losing to the Yomiuri Giants-Chunichi Dragons All-Stars 4-1 today.

The loss also was the Dodgers' seventh against nine wins and one tie in their 18-game goodwill tour of Japan, the most suffered by an American major league team against the Japanese.

Wednesday the Dodgers, apparently travel weary since they opened their barnstorming tour Oct. 22, play their final game against the Yomiuri Giants at Shizuoka.

After the game, Alston said "We're missing five of best players, but even if they were with us we still might lose."

U. S. Tennis Just Too Far Behind The Times

Well, I see where the Little Orphan Annie of American sports, the Sick Child or Organized Athletics, has been dumped on the doorstep again with its formula pinned to its bib.

American tennis has reached a new low. Now we're losing the interzone Finals to South American nobodies. Pretty soon, we won't be able to warm up a banana republic's squad. Australia will beat us without taking the racquet-presses off.

THE TROUBLE with tennis is, it's as anachronistic as George III. It adheres to a code of behavior as outmoded as Louis XIV's court. It is as undemocratic as the House of Lords. They should play the game in powdered wigs.

It is the last survival of a culture that holds there is something despicable about working for a living, about taking money for playing a game well. It is a holdover from the days when great painters painted only for wealthy, libertinous patrons, when people believed in dragons and the divine right of kings, and thought the earth was flat. It is the only major game which still makes professionals use the tradesmen's entrance.

IT IS STAGNATING because it operates under a code that robs its practitioners of the first thing any great athlete has to have to perform well—pride. It, perforce, makes petulant, spoiled brats out of its members—or they flee to the professional ranks where they can at least walk the streets as honest workmen, not quasi-charity cases. Any activity where you have to get paid off in the dark—and in unmarked cash — demeans a man. A great athlete should never be made to feel like a kidnapper getting a ransom through a crack in the fence.

Open tournaments are only part of the answer. The professional game should be THE game. In today's society, no man should have to go through life as a ward of the rich. Jack Benny is a multi-millionaire, not a court jester. Only tennis wears the cap and bells and turned-up shoes. Football players no longer play for cups and medals. They play for half of Texas. Prizefighters are no longer trained pets of earls and dukes. They own castles of their own.

AMATEUR TENNIS, like amateur anything in a society where man is given his own dignity, should be played at high school, college and Olympic level. Let the Davis Cup be an Olympic event. Let the World Cup be a pro event.

You all know what our impolite society's phrase for the "amateur" tennis player is, surely? "Tennis bum." No other sport gets that accolade of derision. It is taken for granted he cannot take his place among legitimate wage-earners. He lives at the end of a short chain. He is beholden. Even his wife has to learn to curtsey.

THE GAME AT the amateur level belongs in Bel-Air backyards, Shaker Heights Estates, Yale, Harvard, or UCLA. Once a man is grown, he should be able to take his game to the marketplace like a Mickey Mantle, Joe Namath, Gale Sayers or Jose Torres.

Tennis is not a game which should be played if you can afford it. It should be a game to be played if IT can afford YOU. Why should Joe Namath have a penthouse with a fur rug on the floor and be able to boast about it in print, while a tennis player, who is at least as considerable an athlete, has to hide the way he pays his phone bill, or apologize for not taking a bus to tournaments?

THE GAME CANNOT struggle out of its bush-league strait jacket because of its semi-monarchal framework. The Davis Clp Challenge Round has resulted in a series of ho-hum finals, featuring spectacular mis-matches between Australia and Italy, or Australia and Spain, lately, because U.S. kids have to become professionals at something before they reach their tennis maturity. Either professional stock brokers or truck salesmen—or professional tennis players.

Next time around. America will not even make it as far as Brazil. Open tournaments are a start at correction. Golf has a 50-year head start, but tennis still has not left the starting blocks in an effort to catch up. I hate to see a great sport descend to the level of tiddledywinks because it has not yet comprehended a 130-year-old fact of life—the Industrial Revolution. To say nothing of the American Revolution.

Mistakes, Penalties Hurt Marin Tars

"It just wasn't our night to win."

College of Marin football coach Dick Read was musing over the remains of a 12-6 setback at the hands of league-leading Shasta College last week, knocking the Tars out of Golden Valley Conference contention.

"We played very well," Read said. "We got inside their 20 five times but we'd either make a mistake or there would be a 15-yard penalty. In that kind of mud, you just don't make up that yardage."

Passing, or the lack of it, also played a part in the loss.

"Our passing was off," Read said. "We completed 5 of 19. That's not too good."

In other Golden Valley games last week, Napa ended a four-game streak of frustration by downing Santa Rosa, 15-7, leaving Santa Rosa winless in eight outings. Sierra stopped Yuba 24-12, setting up a big showdown between the loop's two unbeatens, Sierra and Shasta, at Redding Saturday.

The Tars are 2-2 in league play and are assured of at least a tie for third place.

The Tars face their annual Little Big Game against Santa Rosa at Santa Rosa Friday and it may be a tough one.

"We may have trouble," Read said. "The boys are pretty down after that last one. They played well enough to win but they didn't."

Read figures that Santa Rosa, despite its unbelievable 0-8 record, will be itching and then some.

"Nobody has walked over them yet," Read said. "They've lost some close ones and my teams have never beaten them."

"We'll just have two work and get back on the right track," he said.

The Tars have not beaten Santa Rosa since 1947, with a 12-year break in the series from 1950 to 1962.

Tam's Woodward And Biber, Drake's Mauer Win Individual Grid Titles

It's final.

All the little numbers and figures have been added up for the final statistics in four individual categories and six team categories over six games in the Marin County Athletic League football season.

Drake's Tom Mauer and Tamalpais' Steve Woodward and Mike Biber hauled off the individual titles while Drake finished on top in three team categories, Tamalpais in two and San Rafael in one.

Mauer climaxed a steady season performance by nabbing the MCAL rushing title with 539 yards on 100 carries, finishing agead of Tam junior Mike Fowler by 87 yards. Terra Linda halfback Paul Lee was third with 423 yards followed by Marin Catholic junior Jim Finnegan with 279 yards and Larry Bresnan of Novato with 260 yards.

Tam quarterback Steve Woodward, with a big boost from a 32 for 43 day against Novato, took the passing honors, based on percentage of completions.

Woodward, who took over for injured quarterback Don Mackin in Tam's third game, completed 90 of 160 passes to edge San Rafael's Bill Joost, who completed 85 of 157 passes. The yardage duel stood at 1,366 for Woodward and 932 for Joost.

Harold Fain of Novato was the only other MCAL quarterback to complete half his passes with an even 50 per cent on 61 completions in 122 attempts for 985 yards. Chris Bowman of Terra Linda was fourth on 22 of 51 and Tony Iacopi who hadn't even played quarterback all year, had a big day against Marin Catholic, completing 8 of 19 passes earning him fifth place.

Biber, Tam's super end, took two individual titles, netting the pass receiving honors with 43 catches for 732 yards and the scoring title with 9 touchdowns for 54 points.

In receiving, Biber topped San Rafael's Sam Crowell who had 33 catches for 528 yards. Crowell was followed by Novato's Gary Dinkel with 29 catches for 503 yards, San Rafael's Roger Widmer with 25 catches for 215 yards and Frank Perachiotti of Novato with 22 catches for 369 yards.

Mauer finished second in soring with seven touchdowns and two extra points for 44 points, followed by Fowler with 32 points and Bowman, Joost and Perachiotti with 30 points.

Despite the late season push by Drake, Tam hung on to its total offense lead by finishing tops in passing and third in rushing.

Drake took the rushing title with 1,097 yards for a 183-yard average followed by Terra Linda and Tam. Tam's 1,441 passing yards topped Novato's 1,075. San Rafael was third in passing.

Drake finished second in total offense, followed by Novato.

Although Terra Linda is considered by many to be the best defensive team in the league, the Trojans don't rate the honor statistically.

Drake, which had the best defense against rushing, allowing just 44 yards a game, took the over-all defensive title by 81 yards over Terra Linda. San Rafael had the best pass defense, allowing just 98 yards a game passing in what has been a big passing year.

Terra Linda was second in pass and rush defense, both times followed by Tam, and in overall defense. Tam and San Rafael tied for third in overall defense.

Terra Linda Heads Marin All-Stars

15 TDs for the season and San Rafael's Sam Crowell who caught 50 passes for 844 yards, took the two offensive end spots.

Terra Linda's opportunistic, rugged defenders dominated the defensive team, landing five on the team. In addition to Kilby and Sherbert, defensive and Greg Oczkus, 234-pound tackle Tom Heacox, and defensive halfback Paul Taylor also made the first team.

Here's the way the all-league backfield shapes up statistically for nine games:

Joost completed 117 of 242 passes for 1,413 yards and 11 touchdowns and ran for 173 yards, scored five touchdowns for 30 points. Fowler rushed for 597 yards for a 5.1 average and scored seven touchdowns and two extra points for 44 points. In league play, he was runnerup to Mauer. Lee rushed for 608 yards, best in the league for the season and scored six touchdowns for 36 points. Finnegan rushed for 468 yards, caught 16 passes for 197 yards and scored 30 of Marin Catholic's 47 points.

Rounding out the offensive line were San Rafael guard Mike Rosso and Tamalpais guard Art Langhoff and Marin Catholic center Rich Woodall.

Barry Brink, Tam's steady two-way tackle was a first team defensive choice as were teammates Phil Simpson at linebacker and Scott Laurie at defensive halfback.

Rusty Poole of Redwood filled the remaining linebacker spot.

ANOTHER ROMP FOR WARRIORS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rick Barry's sophomore jinx seems only to have hexed the other clubs in the National Basketball Assn.

The slender blond forward was the NBA Rookie-of-the-Year last season for the San Francisco Warriors.

This season, the Miami graduate is the leading scorer in the league. His 44 points last night helped both his average and the Warriors, who defeated the Detroit Pistons 115-104 for their fifth straight victory in the only NBA game of the night.

Barry hit 17 of 30 from the floor and all 10 of his free throw attempts. He also took 11 rebounds and led both teams with six assists. On Sunday, he hit 19 of 26 from the field and seven of eight from the line against Detroit.

What Barry hasn't done this campaign to get the Warriors into first place in the Western Division, center Nate Thurmond has.

Thurmond scored 20 points and pulled down 30 rebounds. More importantly, he kept the Pistons outside by blocking 15 of their close-in shots.

The Warriors moved ahead to stay after the first five minutes of the game and were seriously challenged only once more. The Pistons moved to 85-81 three minutes into the fourth quarter.

But Barry scored six and Thurmond smashed through a dunk shot for eight points without an answer as the Warriors rolled to their sixth without a loss this season at home.

Novato Man Nominated For Award

Carl Jensen, 21-year-old distance runner from Novato, was one of the nominees in the Pacific Assn. of the Amateur Athletic Union balloting for representing this area in the Sullivan Award competition.

He was one of 16 athletes who had a chance for the Pacific Assn. nomination, which was won by Don Schollander, star swimmer for the Santa Clara Club.

Schollander won the Sullivan award as the nation's top amateur athlete after he won four gold medals in the Olympics in 1964. Winner of the Sullivan Award is decided from among the nominees from the various associations within the AAU and no athlete has won it twice.

Jensen, who will leave for active duty in the Army next month, is temporarily working with the Novato Parks and Recreation Department. A past president and still a member of the Marin Athletic Club, he is a graduate of Novato High School and attended College of Marin and Sonoma State College.

Mill Valley Team Wins Cage Debut

Mill Valley Boys Club, Golden Gate Baptist Seminary and Marin Kelly were opening night winners in the San Rafael Recreation Department's Adult Basketball League last night.

Mill Valley, paced by Brad Bush's 21 points downed Stop N Go Market, 68-52, in A Division play. In C-1 division play, Golden Gate got a 21-point performance from Gene Kishen to down Redmon Raiders, 59-39. Marin Kelly, helped by James Clark's 18 points, stopped Dan Coleman Associates, 56-38 in C-2 play.

Pacific Coach, Stanford, San Jose Stars Honored

BERKELEY (AP)—University of the Pacific's new football coach Doug Scovil, Stanford's defensive tackle Monty Mohrman and San Jose's bullseye passer Danny Holman lead the honors parade of the Northern California Football Writers Assn.

Scovil, the 37-year-old former UOP quarterback, brought the Tigers out of the football depths with a 4-5 record to date and was voted the area's coach-of-the-year for his first season.

Mohrman, a 210-pound senior from Boise, Idaho, was voted top lineman while Holman, in his first season at San Jose, was named the outstanding back. The 160-pound quarterback, a junior, hails from Carmel.

Awards will be made by the Writers on Nov. 28 at the Palo Alto Club banquet in Palo Alto.

Nominees among the linemen, in addition to Mohrman, were John Beasley, California end; Bob Albertazzi, USF guard; Dave Rickerd, Hayward State linebacker; Greg Kolar, Santa Clara linebacker; Terry Oakes, San Francisco State defensive tackle; Steve Cox, San Jose State end and John Quaccia, UOP linebacker.

The backs nominated included four who played on defense and four on offense.

California nominated Jerry Bradley as a back, a position he plays as the safetyman for returning kicks although on offense he goes at split end. Stanford nominated defensive back John Guillory and Hayward also named a defensive back, Curtis Reed. Linebacker Rudy Lapera was nominated by San Francisco State.

Offensive backs named, in addition to Holman, were Bob Lee, UOP quarterback; Phil Wanlin, USF quarterback and Tom Kennedy, Santa Clara fullback.

quick moves, the same sure hands as (MSU end Al) Brenner and outstanding speed," he said.

Daugherty said there wouldn't be any special defensive plan for Seymour.

"You can't change your pass defense going into the 10th game," he said. "We'll just have to do everything better."

Daugherty gave the scouting report on Notre Dame to his first stringers in practice yesterday, and the players did some running, but no heavy work.

Assistant coaches Ed Rutherford and Al Dorow scouted the Irish for MSU.

"Both were very impressed," Daugherty said. "They said this is a team that has everything — size, speed, good coaching and a happy blend of running and passing.

"One of their greatest strengths is their defense, he added, "and they have broken games open with their punt returns, kickoff returns and blocked punts."

Last year, when MSU was ranked No. 1 and Notre Dame No. 4, the Spartans scored a 12-3 victory and held the Irish to minus 12 yards rushing and just 25 yards passing.

But Notre Dame is better this year, said Daugherty, because "now they've got passing plus the same running."

San Rafael '9' Grabs Winter League Lead

They're all alone.

Litchfield's of San Rafael thumped Ellis Brooks Chevrolet in a battle of unbeatens, 7-4, in San Francisco Sunday to take over first place in the San Francisco Triple A Winter Baseball League with no strings attached.

Both clubs brought 4-0 records into the contest but Litchfield's combination of clutch hitting and sound pitching was too much for Ellis Brooks.

Ron Law hurled the first four innings, gave up three singles and two runs but came through with the big blow of the day when he whacked a bases-loaded triple in the fourth inning, giving Litchfield's a 5-0 lead. Ellis-Brooks never did catch up.

Litchfield's had scored two runs in the second inning on a single by Joe Panella, and a tremendous triple by John Laberrique, who scored on a single by Dave Barni.

Litchfield's added a run in the seventh and ninth innings to put the game on ice.

Ron Cole took over on the mound for Law in the fifth inning and finished up to earn his first victory of the winter season.

Laberrique topped Litchfield's 12-hit attack with a triple and two singles. Barni added two singles and Rich Jeffries had a pair of singles and a double.

Phew! Skunk Hunting In Maine; Pheasant Season Almost Here

STEVENS

Hats off in admiration of the recent notice of the fish and game department of the state of Maine. As far as my information goes, Maine is the first (and perhaps the only) state that has recognized the skunk as an upland small game animal. Maine's open season on skunks will run through Dec. 15. Hunters in that state will be able to hunt skunks at night with dogs.

A comment by "Nilo," the conservation department of Winchester-Western Division at East Alton, Ill., struck my eyes. It reads: "Maine dogs must be highly regarded, to be blessed with four months of skunk hunting. This shows sympathy and understanding of the hound mind,, for no human pleasure transcends the soaring bliss that a hound feels when he tears into a skunk. To deprive a hound of skunks is to deny him a pungent badge of valor that proclaims to all downwind world that here runs a dog in the full pride of houndhood. By officially recognizing a dog's need for skunks, and a skunk's need for exercise, the state of Maine has exacted the bosky delights of night running."

WE ALL SAY—Phew to those sentiments.

Pheasant season for 1966 opens on Saturday and runs through Dec. 4, in all the state except Imperial and eastern Riverside counties.

There will be a special archery pheasant season to run Dec. 10, 11, 17 and 18 in all the state with the exception of the far southern counties named above, where the archery season will be Jan. 7, 8, 14 and 15.

THE BAG LIMIT is 2 birds per day, 10 per season. Males only can be taken in Siskiyou and Modoc counties, but in all local areas (Central and Northern California) the bag may contain one hen pheasant on either the 19th or the 20th. This bird is to be tagged with the special hen tag included with pheasant tags.

According to a report from the California Department of Fish and Game, prospects are from fair to good. Populations are fair to good in the Honey Lake and Big Valley areas of Lassen County, in the lower Klamath National Refuge of Siskiyou County, and in the Fall River Valley and along the Sacramento River below Redding.

PROSPECTS ARE bright in the Corning area along the Sacramento River, in Tehama County, and fair in the Shasta Valley of Siskiyou County. In Modoc County, the Tule Lake Basin should be fair and populations are good in the National Refuge.

It looks good to fair in the Delta, but bird populations are down from a year ago in the rice belt of Sacramento Valley, including Glen, Butte, Colusa, Yolo, Sutter, and Sacramento counties.

WITH THE EXCEPTION of Tulare County, San Joaquin Valley's bird population equals last year's. Stanislaus County should be excellent.

There should be more land available to hunters this year because of early harvesting, and birds will be concentrated in the remaining cover areas.

MOST OF THE PHEASANT habitat in the valleys is privately owned, get permission from the owner before working it over.

So—it looks from here that we will have to work a bit harder to stick a ringneck tail feather in our hunting cap. But that's as it should be. Don't you agree?

Living Costs Play Bakery Stock Role

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "Since I'm retired and receive Social Security, I am undecided about holding 100 Interstate Bakeries purchased at 35. Do you think it will recover later?" G.L.

A. So many varying factors affect the future action of a baking company stock that I cannot make a specific answer to your question. Companies like Interstate are hurt by rising wholesale prices of flour, milk, shortening and other ingredients. Added to these problems are greater expenses in packaging and in meeting higher wage scales.

Even though sales for Interstate Bakeries may reach another new peak this year, earnings may only approximate the results for 1965. The reasons are twofold: Rising costs—which I have mentioned — and the squeeze inflicted by competitive pricing. A look at the company's earnings back to 1956 shows an irregular pattern but one that has always covered the dividend adequately.

In your position, I would hold the stock for its good, dependable income. If product prices can be raised and if efforts to tighten cost controls are effective, profits — and ultimately share prices—should improve.

Q. "I'm saving money to go into business sometime but it's slow. A friend advised me to buy Cenco Instruments for quick profit. I bought a block and it went down. Would you advise to keep it?" J. G.

A. It is very hard for me to impress on my readers the fact that the stock market, except under roaring bull market conditions, is a difficult place to make a fast dollar. In many instances, otherwise sensible people put into stocks, in a lighthearted manner, substantial sums which they wouldn't dream of investing in any other form of property without thorough and painstaking investigation. In your case, I think you've been fortunate. Although rather volatile, Cenco is a sound stock. I would keep my shares and count myself lucky this time.

Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Republic Steel Joins In Hiking Stock Dividends

NEW YORK (AP)—Republic Steel Corp., the nation's third largest steel producer, followed U.S. Steel and Bethlehem Steel today in boosting common stock dividends.

Republic raised its dividend by 12½ cents per share, increasing it to 62½ cents from the 50 cents the company has paid since October 1962.

Bethlehem, the second largest steel maker, on Friday announced 30 cents per share year end dividend. It was the first such dividend by Bethlehem in recent years.

U.S. Steel, the largest steel producer, on Sept. 30 increased its dividend to 60 cents from 50 cents.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Auto Repair Shop Owner's Name Is Usually Mispelled

A newly opened automobile repair shop that is sure to be misspelled nine times out of 10 is Settember Automotive Service at 491 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley.

For the past two years proprieter Anthony F. Settember of Corte Madera has been a principal in a similar business—MRM, Inc. at 11 Lovell Avenue, Mill Valley. For most of his life he has been getting wisecracks about his name or having it written like the ninth month of the year.

No, he wasn't born in September—but his father was.

SHELL OIL CO. has purchased 25,000 square feet at the corner of 101 Highway and De Long Avenue, Novato for another elaborately planned service station. This is at the southern part of the old Grant School property where C. D. Christensen proposes to have a commercial development. The transaction was handled by Edward P. Sabo of Redwood Realtors.

This may be Shell's most plush service station in the county. It will be built of slumpstone and is being designed by Bushnell, Jessup, Murphy and Van der Weghe. Work should start this month. Completion is 90 to 120 days away.

PRESENT OPENING SCHEDULE at the Pacheco Shopping Center, Ignacio now looks something like this:

Thursday, Nov. 17: Klein's TV, Taylor Variety Store, Plaza Liquors and probably the Plaza Laundry.

Friday, Nov. 25: One Hour Martinizing Service (this is owned by Jack Sarin of Bel Marin Keys and is not an Orchid Cleaners operation as previously stated), Royal Beauty Salon, Gordon Walker and Associates and the Plaza Pharmacy. That last is a "maybe." It could open later.

The Signal service station is built but not yet in action.

Grand opening, together with the opening of the Safeway Store—probably about Dec. 7.

WAYNE FOOTE, owner of Wayne Hardwood Co., San Rafael specialist dealer in hardwood lumber and mouldings, reports he is expanding his stock to include some of the exotic hardoowds, such as teak and rosewood.

OCTOBER REAL ESTATE sales of $3,766,550 on multiple listing were down 35 per cent from last year's total, though the sum of completed sales for the first 10 months of 1966 is only 21 per cent less than comparable figuers for 1965.

NEW AFFILIATIONS. Lindsay Parker of San Anselmo has joined the sales and service staff of Rafael Appliance and TV, San Rafael. He was formerly of Lynn's Major Appliance Service. . . . Mrs. Lee Kohs of San Rafael and Harry Ansari of Tiburon are new members of the Richard A. Secrist general agency in San Rafael for John Hancock Life Insurance Co.

JAKOB MEINDERS, manager of the Morris Plan Co. San Rafael office, attended the company's annual two-day managers conference in San Francisco last weekend.

RADIO KTIM'S Community Club Awards program has more club groups participating this year and more suppliers, including some of both in Novato. The total, I believe, is 40, but more can be added by registering with the radio station.

This is an advertising promotion but does offer a chance for any club to raise money. Roberta Thorsen, who handled one of the smallest clubs on the list last year and was one of the heaviest scorers, is now in charge of the entire program at KTIM and you can direct inquiries to her for complete information.

Idea is to get a buyer's guide from the radio station and save your sales slips from participating merchants for any purchase. When these are turned in to KTIM, your preferred club benefits in cash awards.

Market Is Jittery Over LBJ Surgery

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market erased a loss and closed with a slight gain on balance today. Trading was moderate.

The market was lower most of the day as it showed caution in advance of President Johnson's surgery scheduled for Wednesday.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7.3 million shares compared with 6.55 million yesterday.

A strong recovery by some of the glamor stocks was a feature. Xerox rose 4, Fairchild Camera nearly 4, and KLM Airlines 3.

Beame Distillers gained 5, Chicago and North Western 4, Motorola, Northwest Airlines and Teledyne about 3 apiece.

Up about 2 points were Polaroid, Merck and Gulf and Western.

Republic Steel raised its dividend and held about half of a 1-point gain. Other major steelmakers advanced fractionally.

All Big Three motors eased.

Eastern Air Lines gained 3.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mostly higher.

October Bank Debits Are Up

October bank debits in Marin County gained over the comparable month last year for the first time in five months, but deposits continued below the 1965 level.

The Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco has reported unadjusted debits of $164,370,000, compared with $154,279,000 in October of last year. Unadjusted deposits of $82,987,000 were down from the $85,143,000 recorded in October, a year ago.

Adjusted debits, deposts and turnover ratios for this county are not being recorded this year, since figures have not been compiled for a long enough period to compensate for seasonal fluctuations.

Retail Sales Down

DETROIT — Retail sales of Chrysler Corp. passenger cars in the first 10 day sales period of November were 38,894 units, a daily rate of 4,321 units. Early November retail sales were two per cent under the same period last year when sales volume was 39,640 units and the daily rate was 4,404 units.

TODAY'S CLOSING NEW YORK STOCK PRICES

NEW YORK (UPI)—Selected stocks on the New York Stock Exchange today.

DOW-JONES AVERAGES

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dow Jones final stock averages: 30 industrials 815.31, up 1.56; 20 railroads 204.14, up 3.58; 15 utilities 137.09, off 0.24, and 65 stocks 288.05, up 1.73.

It's a hard day's morning . . . for a night's good reading

Nothing like the newspaper business for pressure. So little time, so much to do. For a complete newspaper such as the Independent-Journal is the most complex yet lowest-priced product that can be made in one day. And that "one day," is really one morning, with time compressed and work speeded up. Every day a new "model" . . . delivered each afternoon. To do this job against the clock—

- our 18 reporters comb the county, observing, interviewing, phoning, writing, getting the facts for you.
- thousands of AP and UPI newsmen check the world for you, put its pulse on the wire.
- teletypes chatter some 120,000 words to us, from as close as Mill Valley, as far away as Capetown.
- rolls of paper, each 850 lbs., move in from Canada and the Northwest.
- electronic impulses turn into photographs on a machine—the world in black and white, caught in action.
- the managing editor watches for the big stories, gauging the importance of each, overseeing the editorial "construction" of the paper, from content to design.
- pressmen feed the giant press with ink and paper—a taste of what's to come.
- "Circulation" readies for the job of distributing the paper, via 700 newspaperboys, to two out of three homes in the county.
- experts set type for news, for ads—enough in one day to fill a good-sized book.
- the retail advertising staff, 10 strong, contacts almost every business in the county . . . planning campaigns, offering merchants professional service in copywriting, layout and merchandising.
- the city editor "feels" for the news on a hundred fronts, hands out assignments, shaping the news force to the shape of events.
- engravers work their chemical magic, placing print and picture on metal.
- the women's editor and staff of 5 molds food and fashions, social doings, meetings, school events, into a women's world.
- syndicates send in both national and world-wide features—columns, comics, cartoons.
- specialists "make up" the paper, designing every page of news and ads.
- the art department creates illustrations, layouts, designs, cartoons.
- photographers race the news throughout the county, clicking the visual happenings of Marin today.
- ink for the press arrives not in bottles but tanktrucks.
- color plates and color inks are being readied for ads, special editions, covers—all to brighten your reading eye.
- sports "jump" in the typewriters of the sports department and Willie Mays leaps up into a headline.
- "Classified" is setting up the county's daily market place, and the phone rings with "wanted" and "for sale."
- headlines are being written against deadlines—and the tight confines of space.
- vital statistics are being compiled; weather and stock reports are coming in.
- the mechancial superintendent moves the copy through a maze of linotypes, electronic typesetters and the precise hands of men who literally know type up-side down.
- the library is digging up background data for stories, filing photos, micro-filming each edition of the newspaper.
- legal ads get eagle-eyed checking for accuracy.
- orders are coming in from the nation's advertising agencies with mats for advertisements—everything from autos to ant spray.
- issues become the tissue of editorials—the reasoned interpretation of events.
- proofreaders scan every line of news and advertising trying to hold errors to a minimum against the pressure of time.
- letters to the editor are being read for possible publication.
- the dispatch office is moving ads into production—checking size, type, mats, insertion dates, art, photos—a hundred elements.
- our national representatives are meeting with ad agencies and advertisers in New York, Detroit, Chicago—a dozen cities—telling them about Marin County and its newspaper.
- special contributors' columns on fishing, baseball and many others are being processed.
- Marin Magazine is being dummied; stories developed for the Saturday edition—picturing life in Marin.
- the business office moves against a mountain of financial and administrative detail.
- stereotypers cast the weighty cylinders for the big press—the final imprint of the news on metal.
- last minute news comes through and the front page changes under the expert fingers of typographers and the eye of the editor.

People Want Change Away From Welfarism

The Republican sweep in Sacramento is not likely to bring immediate and drastic changes.

There will be no sudden halt to the welfare programs, or to medical care for the aged, or to the war on poverty.

But in answer to the unmistakable voice of the people, expressing dissatisfaction with the incumbent Administration in Sacramento, some changes should be forthcoming.

As we see it, the people in general want a tightening up in the cost of running government.

They acknowledge that the genuinely destitute and the handicapped deserve public aid to help them get back on their feet. But they are less inclined to tolerate a free-spending welfare program whose over-all aim is admirable but whose operations are riddled with loopholes that allow the shiftless too free a choice between working for a living or loafing on public dole.

People are becoming impatient with the rise in crime and the rioting and destruction of lives and property, designed in some cases to gain public attention and to wrest a maximum of benefits with a minimum of back bending.

Rioters who sacked and burned, defied authority, and turned up their noses at jobs they considered too menial, probably contributed to the downfall of the Democratic regime in Sacramento.

In dramatically repudiating the Brown Administration through the ballot box, the people seem to be saying:

We have been squeezed to the breaking point by high taxes. It is true we should help the unfortunate, retrain the unskilled, and find jobs for the unemployed.

But we revolt against pouring out our hard-earned dollars unless they can give proof of need and sincerity in seeking employment.

We need more self-pride, individual initiative and sense of responsibility, and less dependence on government to guarantee us jobs of our choice and wages to our liking.

We can't afford a society where the reward for inactivity becomes so attractive that incentive is dulled and idleness becomes a way of life.

These are some of the mandates that the new Administration will take to Sacramento in January.

And Why Do Animals Fight?

No one really knows all the instinctual drives behind the fighting which frequently occurs between members of the same species. Here, in Marin, we often see such battles among the hummingbirds, the quail, squirrels, occasionally between deer, and even between cows.

Most scientists believe such fights are necessary to determine which animal is the "boss" and hence best suited to bring a semblance of order and peace. When scientists have removed the animals that dominated the others, the groups quickly degenerated into squabbling, bickering bands.

As the farmer said, as he watched his cows bashing their heads together, "Cow fights make for order and peaceful individuals. The quicker they decide whether Betsy or Murabelle is going to be the boss cow, the sooner I'll get a bucket full of milks from both of them."

AFFAIRS OF STATE

There's No One Man To See As Inside Track To Reagan Job

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—It is predicted that a good many surprising, but beneficial things are going to happen in the Ronald Reagan administration, and already the course of events has given this prediction the possibility of coming true.

USUALLY, when a new governor is about to take over, there is some one individual who operates behind the scenes, and who is "the man to see."

Sacramento politicos, as well as many from outside the city, both those who hope to become affiliated with the new administration, and those a part of the Brown entourage who want to continue their jobs, started to look for this "man to see" the day after election.

So far they haven't found him, and probably won't, because it can be said truthfully, there isn't any such man.

AS A RESULT, there is a mad scramble among the "would-bes" who want jobs, power or prestige for the next four years.

It is an uncontroverted fact that no administration can operate on an executive alone. The executive needs, and must have, help to keep the wheels of government turning, and effectuate or at least start effectuation of his new staff and the new philosophies demanded by vote of the people.

Governor-elect Reagan is no exception. Although he will have competent advisers, and many of them, he has selected no one individual as "the man to see," to whom would be delegated the job of making decisions for the governor.

It is becoming more apparent all the time that Governor-elect Reagan is going to make his own decisions, most of them on the basis of information gathered from a good many sources.

THESE SOURCES include representatives from California business, from labor interests, from various associations of businessmen and others, and no doubt from the public at large.

In addition, he will rely on legislative advice from elected representatives of the people, primarily from those who are known to be sympathetic to the Republican cause and Reagan's program.

Among these legislators are Assemblyman Robert Monagan, R-Stockton, and Jack Veneman, R-Modesto. Monagan is the Republican minority leader in the house and Veneman assisted in the direction of the Robert Finch campaign for lieutenant governor.

And again, Reagan is fortunate in having a team of operators as constitutional officers. He can expect help along many lines from Finch, who is an outstanding politician in his own right, and has vast understanding of the workings of government. State Controller-elect Flournoy is a former legislator and knows what makes the wheels move in the house. Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan is a veteran politician who probably has forgotten more about state government that most people know. And the federal picture could be the field of Treasurer-elect Ivy Baker Priest.

SO AMONG this distinguished group of individuals in the political field, there is no particular "man to see," but all will contribute to good government in the state.

THE CYNIC'S CORNER By Interlandi

"I know about the election results. I wonder who won the rating war — Walter Cronkite or Huntley-Brinkley!"

20 YEARS AGO

The Federal Communications Commission granted Marin Broadcasting Co. a permit to operate a 1,000-watt radio station in Marin County.

A free parking lot was opened on the north side of Third Street between Lootens Place and A Street with 88 spaces by agreement between the City of San Rafael and Blumenfeld Theaters.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Mail Logjam Not Funny

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Art Buchwald's article about the post office was very amusing, and I suppose the fact that we can no longer rely on mail delivery should be taken lightly. But when you are newly transferred away from home you look forward more eagerly to receiving letters, magazines and newspapers, especially those from your home town, and when they are delayed, sometimes for a month or more, you notice it and begin to wonder why.

We moved here in February. The normal delays caused by change of address are understood, but now when we think this is finally straightened out, and magazines had at last begun to reach us at the right address, we find that at least six issues of one weekly magazine are overdue, and two issues of a monthly one.

Does a citizen have any right to expect reliable service from the post office department any more, or has our country already gone so far down the drain that we must be resigned to an ever increasing laxity in services and thank God if we receive any mail at all?

British Butter Price Lower

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In connection with the recent drive by housewives to lower the food costs, I have the following to report.

I have just returned from Europe and from England where I stayed for almost a month. Food costs are quite low there and this is amazing as most things are shipped in.

One of the articles which dumbfounded me was the cost of butter. New Zealand butter, which has to be shipped all the way from New Zealand, was selling in all parts of England for the equivalent of 34 U.S. cents. Local housewives have to pay from 79 to 84 cents for butter which is only shipped a few miles. This in the land of plenty?? I don't blame housewives for complaining, I am too. How about you??

Unity Needed In Road Fight

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Remembering the advice of Benjamin Franklin, "Gentlemen, we must all hang together, or, most assuredly, we will all hang separately," many responsible Marin organizations have joined in opposing any freeway proposal, lest the financial and esthetic value of any part of our county be ruined.

The leadership of the Sleepy Hollow Homeowner's Assn. was also contacted in this effort. But, unfortunately, this group entertains no such universal concern. It has voted, instead, to embark on a quixotic effort to persuade two cities to commit fiscal suicide, to save Sleepy Hollow from the freeway.

It is clearly apparent that the time-honored political ploy of divide and conquer is being used against all groups and all communities. Sensible people have perceived this, and have not been stampeded into a divisive neighbor vs. neighbor war, realizing that what harms one community harms everyone.

However, if some communities, in selfish fright go crying for a freeway (any freeway, so long as it destroys another neighborhood) we will most likely end up saddled with some six-lane monstrosity that will be of little use to anyone, while needed improvements on our present roads are neglected.

There is little time left, and unless a greater degree of unity is achieved soon, all of us are likely to have to pay for the self-centered, short-sightedness of a few.

Unemployment Not Solved

Editor, Independent-Journal:

So painter apprentice Richard Brown thinks that if rollers and spray guns had been controlled there would be more work for painters. If we had controlled the manufacture of automobiles the harness makers would still be in business.

No, Mr. Brown, the causes for unemployment in Marin right now go much deeper, over-building, tight money, etc. But perhaps even more important is the fact that the building trades have priced themselves out of the market. You've been happy with higher and higher wages and fringe benefits and have reciprocated with shoddier work and using the bosses' time for breakfast.

I'd much rather hire a painter but the combination of outrageous prices and lousy workmanship leave me doing it myself.

Many Thanks Firefighters

Editor, Independent-Journal:

There are members of two households at Muir Beach who are convinced that there are a great number of courageous and unselfish people in this world. On Nov. 1, when a sudden grass fire threatened our homes, we were saved from disaster by the immediate response of workers from Green Gulch Ranch, Henry's Service, Guilotti Construction workers, members of at least two rock and roll bands (the Charlatans and the Cosmic Interplanetary Action—CIA!), a man and his wife driving by on their way to Bolinas, and Muir Beach friends who happened to be home during the emergency. Thanks is a small word, but if we say it once for each person who formed a human wall between the flames and our homes, it adds up to many, many thanks!

Humphrey, Kennedy Save LBJ From Red Face Over GOP Wins

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson kept mum a while about Tuesday's election, as if to digest the result in which Republicans were the gainers, but finally admitted things would be a little tougher for him now.

This doesn't mean he has become a reticent politician. In this year's election campaigns he was rather more absent than reticent. It was the absence which saved him from some possible embarrassment later.

His decision to go to Asia in mid-October as the campaigns heated up, instead of spinning around the country to plug for Democrats in trouble, raised the two obvious questions:

WAS THE TRIP necessary then or couldn't it have waited until after the elections? Or was he afraid that, if he did campaign for those who lost, some or much or all of the blame would be dumped on him?

In fact, Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon Democrat, warned Johnson to keep his nose out of Oregon politics. Morse's warning came while the President was still in Asia and there was the possibility that when he returned a week before elections he might campaign.

Johnson removed himself from any campaigning when he did come back and announced he needed surgery.

In effect, Morse, constant critic of Johnson on the war in Viet Nam, told the president he would be a potential disaster for Oregon's Democratic candidates if he went there.

THIS WAS IRONIC since Morse himself refused to support the Democratic candidate for the Senate, Rep. Robert B. Duncan, a Johnson supporter on Viet Nam, who was running against Oregon's Gov. Mark O. Hatfield.

Morse said that if Johnson visited Oregon "He will probably help elect Hatfield." Hatfield won anyway, although Johnson never went near Oregon. But New York's Sen. Robert F. Kennedy did and pitched for Duncan.

But, for that matter, so did Johnson's vice president, Hubert H. Humphrey.

Before Johnson went to Asia it was pretty well known a number of Democrats might lose.

Take three of the most prominent:

CALIFORNIA'S Gov. Edmund G. Brown running for re-election against movie star Ronald Reagan; Illinois, Sen. Paul N. Douglas, running for re-election against a businessman, Charles H. Percy; and, in New York, a New York City councilman, Frank D. O'Connor, running against Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller who was seeking re-election.

Except for a brief visit to New York in support of O'Connor, Johnson visited none of the three states. But Kennedy did. And so did Humphrey.

The three Republicans—Reagan, Percy and Rockefeller—won. Now no one can say that Johnson is responsible.

And Johnson now has the luxury of sitting back to see if anyone tries to blame Kennedy, no pal of Johnson and perhaps his rival for the presidential nomination in 1968, although Kennedy denies he will be.

WEEKS BEFORE Johnson went to Asia a public opinion poll showed Kennedy the choice of Democrats and Independents for the presidency in 1968 over Johnson. Humphrey has never been mentioned as a possible Johnson rival.

Warren Commission Costs Never Bared

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—There is a curious omission in the flurry of books published recently in the U.S. and abroad assailing the investigation of President Kennedy's assassination.

Not one of these critical tomes says anything about the extraordinary fact that there has never been a financial accounting of the probe.

Even members of the seven-man Warren Commission are in the dark about that.

IT WAS THEIR understanding that a detailed financial statement would be submitted and made a part of the commission's record before it disbanded—in October, 1964. For some unexplained reason this has never been done, although the four congressional members of the commission have several times sought such an accounting.

Informally, there has been one financial accounting—of a general nature.

The General Services Administration has listed the commission's expenditures as totaling $1.2 million.

LARGEST SINGLE item is $556,500 for printing. Second is $255,650 for "salaries and related benefits." There is no explanation of the latter.

Similarly, the statement contains no indication of the source of the $1.2 million. Understanding has been that the money came from contingency funds available to President Johnson—who initiated the investigation and selected the members.

The GSA statement notes that "expenses of personnel detailed to the commission from other government agencies are not included in the above figures." The FBI did a great deal of such work.

General counsel J. Lee Rankin reportedly received $35,000. Other senior attorneys got from $15,000 to $20,000. All of them only part time.

In all there were 13 lawyers on the commission's staff.

The actual writing of the commission's widely controversial report was done by several junior atorneys. One of the critical books charges that the senior lawyers contributed very little to the final version of the findings.

IT IS NO SECRET that several members of the commission feel that the former Mrs. Marina Oswald, widow of the assassin, did not relate all she knew about him and his activities. These members now are saying she should have been more rigorously grilled.

WE PREDICT—Stokely Carmichael, head of the militant SNCC, is going abroad to try to raise much-needed funds from wealthy British and other pacifists and foes of the U.S. Viet Nam policy, and to bolster his sagging prestige with U.S. Negroes. Among those Carmichael plans to visit is Bertrand Russell, aged leftist who is trying to organize a "war criminal" trial of President Johnson.

Starting January 1, the wives of U.S. military personnel will be supplied with birth control pills and information by the government if they ask for them. This will be done under the new military medicare law passed by the recent Congress.

NOW THAT the election is over, there will be a big rush of foreign junkets by members of Congress. Virtually every committee of both the House and Senate has set up such expense-free trips to all parts of the world.

Novato Appears To Be Ripe For Bankers' Club Formation

Novato may be ripe for a bankers' club. Not that it lays any claim to being the financial center of the county or anything like that but . . . .

JUST A FEW short years ago, a person had a choice of two banks in downtown Novato, the Central Valley Bank and Crocker-Anglo, now Crocker-Citizens. There was and still is, a small branch of the Bank of America at Hamilton Air Force Base, which primarily was for the base personnel.

Then Wells-Fargo opened in the Novato Fair Shopping Center and the Bank of Marin on Grant Avenue.

Yesterday the Bank of America opened a branch in the old Catholic Church on Grant Avenue.

The Novato Savings and Loan was organized and opened on Grant Avenue. Quick to get in on the act, the Santa Rosa Savings and Loan opened offices in a portable building, not waiting to build a permanent home.

The Tiburon National Bank has announced plans for opening a branch in the Nave Shopping Center.

That would make seven banks and two savings and loans in the city. There are enough employees there to form a good sized club.

FOR YEARS there was a cry around Novato that there were not any parks. The Lions Club built one below Stafford Dam on North Marin Water District lands. This has been turned over to the City of Novato to maintain and run.

The Novato Garden Club made futile efforts to get consent to landscape the state Division of Highways square at Grant Avenue and Highway 101, and Mahlsted Park at the end of Hayden Drive. The City of Novato is now making progress in getting the state land landscaped. The Novato firemen and garden club still are willing to help in the project. The garden club and city have given up on Mahlsted Park.

The Rotary Club raised money and is now constructing a tiny tot play lot on land belonging to the Novato Sanitary District at Railroad and Olive Avenues.

MRS. BEA Carpenter and volunteer labor basically from the Novato Community Club, have redecorated the Novato Community House.

The San Marin Homeowners Assn. has volunteered to do work to get something done in the park which Sunset International Petroleum Corp. deeded to the city.

We are pointing up these as examples of volunteer work which has helped in getting some of the needed things done in Novato.

Perhaps if there were more of a concerted effort or guiding force to channel this energy, Novato could get its parks at much less cost in money and time.

WHAT IS a coincidence?

Webster's says that it is a group of concurrent events or circumstances, or one of them, remarkable from lack of apparent causal connection.

So would you call it a coincidence that the new plans for the reactivation of the 349th or Golden Gate Military Airlift Wing, if it is reactivated as it was during the Cuban crisis, arrived at the Hamilton Headquarters the day after the election? Note, they did not arrive the day before, the week or two weeks before, but the day after the election.

Hemlock And Martinis Combine To Make Painless Election Day

With the election over, you doubtless expect this to be an authoritative and incisive in-depth analysis of the California results.

THAT'S WHAT you'd get, too, if I had a crystal ball. But, alas, the sad fact is that this column is being written on the very Election Day that is now old hat to you and — due to the exigencies of syndication, plus the fact that Nov. 11 is a postman's holiday here —must be on its way to the printer some three hours before the polls close.

So here I am suspended in time, so to speak, still beating my nails over a race that has long been decided. But with no votes counted, even a machine has no way of knowing whether Reagan beat Brown or whether a threatened write-in for Bobby Kennedy hasn't swamped them both. With Massachusetts and New York in his pocket, that could just about cinch the nomination for Bobby in 1972.

I wouldn't have to face this occupational hazard biennially if elections were held on Monday instead of Tuesday, my writing day. I have mentioned this to my senator, George Murphy, but he says there is no hope of such an amendment without a clear Republican majority. Democrats are timid, it seems, of making any minor change in our mores — with them, it's a complete social revolution or nothing at all.

So, in an endeavor to ease the sense of frustration, this year I tried a new approach —and I think it's working.

I arose and had a lonely breakfast—the Little Woman was already off to Reagan headquarters and wouldn't be back till 8 p.m. or so—so I dawdled over my paper and three cups of coffee.

THEN, BEFORE going to vote, I carefully marked my sample ballot, which took some doing. I knew my candidates, of course, but there were 16 propositions to be gone over, too.

Here, when in doubt, I used an unfailing system that has stood me in good stead: I turned to the recommendations of the local liberal paper and marked my ballot contrariwise.

The phone began ringing as a host of my faithful followers —about six, give or take a few—eagerly asked where to place their X, and I gave my Olympian judgment, before going out to vote myself.

The mail had arrived on my return, and that took another half-hour or so. By then it was time for a mid-day sandwich and more coffee. After which, in preparation for the ordeal that lay ahead, I fixed a cup of hemlock and a shaker of martinis, and put them on ice. Win or lose, I was going to take my medicine like a man.

MY RULES were simple: It would be a spoonful of hemlock for any bad news and a jigger of martini for any hopeful sign. Hemlock, incidentally, is not fatal if martinis are used as an antidote. Had Socrates known about that, he might still be with us — and heaven knows we need every Republican vote there is.

I noted that the mild rain I had encountered when voting had ceased. And, since that was a good GOP omen, that called for a martini.

A telephone report told me that Beverly Hills was casting a heavy vote. This home district of mine used to be safely Republican, but is now Democratic. You know how it is — you let one Democrat in and pretty soon the whole neighborhood goes. That was a bad sign, so I headed for the kitchen for my spoonful of hemlock.

On the way, however, I chanced to look outside and saw that it still wasn't raining, so I washed the hemlock down with a couple of martinis.

So, what with one thing and another, it got to be 4 o'clock, and I turned on the TV to see how things were going in other states. The first returns from Kansas and Connecticut indicated hemlock, but I turned the dials and got good news emanating from Florida, Tennessee, Illinois, Texas, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Oklahoma and Nebraska. Weighing the figures scrupulously, I decided the fair thing was to forget the hemlock and have a double martini.

I JUST DID. And, gracious, it's 5 o'clock now. I'd better get this off to the printer and prepare another martini shaker in case Reagan wins. I'd hate to be caught unaware.

There's still plenty of hemlock, though, just in case. I must have whipped up a bigger batch than I thought. Oh, well, if I don't need it, I'll offer it to some Democrats. I hate to see good stuff wasted.

Work Furlough Sentence Given

Donald John Arceo, 30, was given a year in county jail with work furlough privileges yesterday in Marin Superior Court for forgery.

Arceo, a transient, had pleaded guilty Oct. 7 to forging a $1,075 check with intent to defraud Bruce MacDiarmid in Larkspur Sept. 28. He still faces a charge of possession of a $1,285 check with intent to defraud Bank of Marin in San Rafael on Sept. 27.

Commission To Puzzle Broken Bones

The Marin County Safety Commission Thursday will try to find out what happened to county maintenance man George Pantezes, who suffered three broken vertebrae and a bloody nose while on the job Oct. 16 but does not know how it happened.

The meeting of the commission will begin at 8 a.m. at the Civic Center.

Pantezes, who was off the job three weeks as a result of injuries, remembers locking the boiler room door at the county farm. The next thing he can remember was standing beside his county truck on the other side of the building with his nose bleeding and a sharp pain in his back.

Leslie Wider, county building superintendent, said that the only assumption he can make is that Pantezes, 45, blacked out and fell, possibly after turning suddenly and pinching a nerve in his neck.

That's what the other United Air Lines stewardesses call her. Because she's been flying for almost three years now. (The average tenure of a United stewardess is only 21 months before she gets married.)

But she's not worried.

How many girls do you know who can serve cocktails and dinner for 35 without losing their composure? And who smile the whole time like they mean it? (They do.)

Not too many, right? That's part of the reason why only one girl out of every 30 who applies for stewardess school becomes a United stewardess.

But still, since United invented the stewardess back in 1930, we've trained over 15,000 smiling reasons to fly the friendly skies.

Maybe that's why more people fly United than any other airline.

Today is Tuesday, Nov. 15, the 319th day of 1966 with 46 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening star is Saturn.

British statesman William Pitt was born on this day in 1708.

On this day in history:

In 1777, the Articles of Confederation were adopted by the Continental Congress.

In 1806 Zebulon Pike sighted the mountain which later became known as "Pike's Peak."

Also in 1806, the first magazine published by college undergraduates appeared in New Haven, Conn., the Yale "Literary Cabinet."

In 1920, the Assembly of the League of Nations met in Geneva for the first time.

A thought for the day—American jurist Oliver Wendell Homes said: "Life is worth an end in itself, and the only question as to whether it is worth living, is whether you have enough of it."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Part-Score Auctions Can Sometimes Be Complicated

Part scores complicate your bidding. If your side has most of the high cards, the part score may cause you to miss a slam that you would easily bid without the part score.

If the strength is evenly divided, your part score will usually persuade the opponents to overbid rather than let you play the hand.

PART SCORE

When today's hand was played in the finals of the rubber bridge tournament last month at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas, East-West were vulnerable and had a part score of 40 points.

This part score had a decided influence on the bidding.

CAUTIOUS BID

West was cautious about bidding over one spade but decided to risk a bid of three clubs when the opponents stopped at two spades.

The bid was far from safe, for North might have held club strength instead of diamond strength, and West might have paid a penalty of 500 points for stepping into the bidding.

TOO RISKY

South thought it too risky to let West play the hand at three clubs because that would bring in game and rubber if West made his contract.

Actually, West would lose a spade, two top hearts and a heart ruff, and eventually a diamond.

South would have passed three clubs if there had been no part score, and this would have brought in a small profit.

Because of the score, however, South went on—and the contract was one trick too high. South had to lose two clubs, two spades and the ace of diamonds.

If you like a story to have a moral, try this: the value of a part score is at least 100 points more than what you write on the scorepad.

In a lively game, a part score may bring in enough to pay off the mortgage on your home.

GI College Count Below The Forecast

By PETER A. JANSSEN
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Only about half as many veterans are attending classes this fall under the Cold War GI Bill of Rights as had been expected.

Officials at the Veterans Administration, however, are quick to predict that many more will enter classes in mid-year. "I'm not sure how many people know about this yet," one said.

So far, 201,000 vets have enrolled in courses this fall, plus another 64,000 who took classes under the bill this summer.

When the bill was adopted last spring, the VA predicted that 514,000 vets would take advantage of it by next April. The greatest portion of this year's class has already registered.

About 75 per cent of the vets using the bill are enrolled in colleges and universities. The others are in secondary, trade, business and correspondence schools.

A high VA official says that many colleges are already crowded and have trouble admitting vets who might not have applied without the help provided by the bill. Many of these vets presented an unexpected crush at admissions offices, and were turned down.

At a meeting earlier this month in Florida, college deans said they would admit many more vets if the federal government gave them more grants for classrooms and dormitory construction, the VA official added.

The bill provides $100 a month to vets with no dependents, $125 to those with one dependent and $150 to those with two or more dependents if they are enrolled in full-time classes.

Benefits are scaled down for part-time students.

To qualify, the veteran must have served at least 181 days on active duty since Feb. 1, 1955, and have been discharged "under conditions other than dishonorable."

Students get one month's worth of benefits for each month spent on active duty, with a maximum of 36 months in benefits.

Most of the students so far have been vets returning to the campus after a considerable absence. The average age of the summer students was 28. Half were married.

Veterans can take any course at accredited schools leading to a degree, but no apprentice or on-the-job training is authorized. Neither are recreation courses or flight training, unless they are taken for credit and lead to a degree.

The bill potentially affects four million veterans discharged since Jan. 31, 1955, when the Korean War GI Bill expired. The new bill provides education, home loan, hospital and job placement benefits similar to those granted veterans of the Korean conflict and World War II.

The bill provides no retroactive payments and no deadline to enter school but students must complete their education within eight years of discharge. The first cutoff date, however, is not until 1974.

Two Agencies On Collision Path In Space

By JONATHAN EBERHART
Science Service

WASHINGTON — Under the shadow of the Air Force's spectacular success on the way to a long-term home for military men in orbit, high administration planners are worrying that two of the government's most powerful agencies still seem to be rocketing toward the same expensive goal in space.

The USAF Manned Orbiting Laboratory (MOL) and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's (NASA) wire-ranging Apollo Extension Systems (AES) program have been battling it out for funds since December, 1964, when Congress held up both projects while it tried to decide whether it was paying twice for the same merchandise. Four years later, with fiscal 1968 budgets in the works, sharp eyes still scrutinize every little proposal for fear of duplication.

The Nov. 3 shot was one of the most elaborate in U.S. space history. Once in space, the Titan IIIC burned out and ejected an unmanned Gemini capsule, then restarted, burned out again, restarted again, went into orbit and ejected three satellites.

The MOL shot, and future shots, however, have an assist from the Gemini program. It was a NASA Gemini that was rammed down through the atmosphere to test the effect of air friction on a new heat shield. The shield was equipped with a trap door to allow astronaut crews riding Gemini spacecraft up from earth to enter the MOL.

The MOL idea has been part of government thinking for a third of a decade. In the summer of 1963, NASA and the Defense Department first agreed on the need for such a program. Since then there has been almost nothing but trouble, including congressional investigations, program changes, budget fights, last-minute postponements, and nose-to-nose confrontations between Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, and NASA head James Webb.

The big stumbling block was largely and still is military vs. civilian. MOL proponents argue that with all the money NASA is spending to get to the moon, nothing is left to investigate the military potential of space.

NASA, on the other hand, points out that MOL will almost certainly be a one-shot deal, with no continuing space program to make use of its discoveries.

The military-civilian issue is no more than a paper problem. Gemini 5 Astronauts Gordon Cooper and Charles Conrad, for example, conducted a few experiments for DOD during their flight and caused some question of whether they had compromised that was supposed to be a peaceful mission.

MOL is now a firm commitment, though whether the Air Force will expand its effort into a series of space stations (as was suggested in June, 1965, by a Senate committee) is still unknown.

NASA has more of a problem. Once it has landed men on the moon, what next? Some authorities say that an AES-type effort would be the ideal way to reap returns from the $20 billion Apollo moon project. However, a space advisory group from the National Academy of Sciences has recommended that putting men on Mars be declared the next national goal. A "national goal" with interests different from AES could easily drain funds away from NASA's pet project.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Diseases Can Be Named After Person, Place And Even Beer

VAN DELLEN

Many diseases and microbes have been named after the physician who initially described them. On one occasion, a condition was named after the first victim in whom the causative organism was found. Now and then a city or area where the condition was first recognized becomes the name of the disease. Rocky Mountain spotted and Q (Queensland) fever are examples. The same can be said of Malta fever and St. Louis encephalitis.

A RECENTLY described disease has a title that leaves nothing to the imagination. Beer drinker's heart was first noted in Omaha. Forty men with an enormous fondness for beer developed dropsy due to failure of the heart.

The condition was fatal in 16. A similar outbreak was noted among 48 heavy beer consumers in Quebec. Twenty died.

None of the Omaha men were obese and a third also drank hard liquor. The cause is not known except that they all consumed a lot of beer.

The cobalt that some brewers added to prevent excessive foaming was suspected at first but this material is no longer used.

SOME NAMES are more subtle. Maple sirup urine disease is a metabolic disorder in which certain proteins are not utilized properly by the body. The manifestations occur shortly after birth and consist of muscle rigidity, poor feeding, vomiting, and mental retardation. The urine has the odor of maple sirup.

In contrast, maple bark disease is a pneumonia that follows inhalation of maple wood dust that contains a fungus that lives under the bark.

A SHORT TIME ago we wrote about a few individuals whose repeated attacks of boils and abscesses over the entire body puzzled the authorities. The infection was appropriately called Job's disease.

Some conditions are named after two or three men who worked together. But in the past, when communications between nations were poor, they might have discovered the disorder independently.

Now and then the reverse occurs. Three or four separate entities turn out to be variations of a single disease.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.

ICE CREAM ALLERGY

J. J. writes: Whenever I eat ice cream my throat and my stomach become inflamed. Can something be done to counteract this condition?

REPLY

Such a reaction may indicate an allergy to the cold or to one of the ingredients in ice cream. The intense headache that some persons develop after swallowing a large spoonful of ice cream is an interesting, but poorly understood phenomenon.

RED CELL PRODUCTION

J. B. C. writes: How many red blood cells are manufactured each hour?

REPLY

Ten million per second or 36 billion per hour. There are said to be 35 trillion red blood cells in the body but overproduction need not be feared because old ones are destroyed as fast as new ones are made.

RINGWORM OF FEET

S. S. writes: What does athlete's foot look like?

REPLY

The skin is cracked and blistered, particularly between the toes. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on this disorder.

EXERCISE AT 40

W. D. writes: Do you think it is too late for a woman of 40 to train her muscles for a better figure?

REPLY

No, but when she exercises she must remember she is not 20.

Hysteria Prevalent Among Today's African Societies

WASHINGTON (SS) — Hysteria appears to be prevalent in African societies and rare in today's Western world. Indian schizophrenics are apt to be withdrawn and Italian schizophrenics are aggressive. Or at least this seems to be the pattern, according to an emerging branch of psychiatric research.

Culture as a force in shaping mental illness has until now been relatively neglected. But there are signs of a change.

At a recent gathering of personality experts at Rice University, a psychiatrist and an anthropologist joined forces in summarizing the state of the art.

The mentally ill individual reflects in an "exaggerated and distorted manner important aspects of his culture," said Dr. E. D. Wittkower, director of Transcultural Psychiatric Studies at McGill University, and Dr. Guy Dubreuil, professor of anthropology at Montreal University.

For instance, gross forms of hysteria, such as hysterical blindness, have virtually vanished in Europe and the United States. Drs. Wittkower and Dubreuil attribute this to such reasons as the increasing sophistication of Western people.

But among the illiterates of non-Western countries, gross hysteria is prevalent, possibly because the degree of conscious control over impulses is less well-developed, they said.

On the other hand, obsessional neuroses — persistent anxiety, compulsive handwashing, phobias, obsession with a single idea and other such troubled preoccupations —appear to be rare in developing countries, while they form a major part of Western psychiatric ills.

Anxiety in primitive societies is much more likely to be short and acute — a complete but temporary disruption of the personality, said Drs. Wittkower and Dubreuil.

Further depression resulting from guilt and self-recrimination seems to be concentrated mostly in countries of Judeo-Christian background. Depression, on the whole is reportedly rare in Africans.

There is reason to believe, said the doctors, that many of these differences can be attributed to a people's level of education. But culture-based child-rearing practices and national social structure are also factors.

Marin Dogs Win At San Mateo

Champion Del Akers El Capitan a longhaired dachshund owned by Bill Simpson of Novato, took best of variety at the San Mateo Kennel Club dog show Sunday.

The dog was also judged best longhaired dachshund at the Mensona Kennel Club show at Santa Rosa on Nov. 5 and at the San Joaquin dog show in Stockton on Nov. 6. He is shown by Helen Blair of Novato.

Also best of variety winners at the San Mateo show was the black standard poodle, Ch. Wycliffe Dudley, owned by Charles S. Wills of 578 Virginia Drive, Tiburon, handled by Phyllis T. Greer of Black Point. The French bulldog owned and shown by Mrs. John Hampton of 268 Cascade Drive, Mill Valley, and a chow chow owned by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred LeMar of 207 Caledonia, Sausalito, also were best of breed winners.

By headliners: Victor Borge is host of ABC-TV's "Hollywood Palace" Dec. 3, and his guests include the husband-and-wife team of Jean Pierre Aumont and Marisa Pavan...Maurice Chevalier has replaced Yves Montand as the costar, with Diahann Carroll, of the upcoming, Paris-filmed "ABC Stage 67" musical revue entitled "C'est la Vie"...Wally Cox plays a hired "syndicate" killer on NBC-TV's "The Girl From U.N.C.L.E." Dec. 13, and his target is a mobster portrayed by Pernell Roberts, who quit the "Bonanza" series a while back.

Garry Moore's New Year's Day hour on CBS-TV will be devoted entirely to leading magicians . . . Geraldine Chaplin, actress-daughter of Charles Chaplin, is a scheduled guest on NBC-TV's "Today" program from England Wednesday . . . Dean Martin, who had one of his singing daughters, Gail, 21, on his NBC-TV show of Oct. 27, has another, Deanna, 17, turn up for some vocalizing on his Dec. 8 outing . . . Hollywood's annual deb star ball, of which the most famous recent graduate is Raquel Welch, is set for ABC-TV Jan. 28, with Steve Allen and Jayne Meadows as hosts.

Janet Leigh appears with CBS-TV's Red Skelton Nov. 29...NBC-TV's "Dragnet" police series with Jack Webb returns Jan. 12 instead of Jan 5, as previously announced...the old "I Love a Mystery" radio program is being converted into a so-called "original" two-hour motion picture for NBC-TV, starring Ida Lupino and Les Crane, who had the late-night ABC-TV talk show that was cancelled last season...CBS-TV's Lucille Ball, who recently did a special in England, plans six other hours to be produced abroad, with possible locations including Hawaii, Canada, Denmark, Japan, Monaco, France, Switzerland and Scotland.

Mae West said not long ago that the reruns of her old movies on television have won her many fans in the younger generation, which is why she recorded an album aimed at their musical tastes...now comes a musical aggregation of five young men paying tribute to another great star of the old films seen on video, Miss West's sometime leading man, W. C. Fields...the young men have entitled their group "The W.C. Fields Memorial Electric String Band"...they pose in pictures with the top hats that suited Fields, cutaway coats, etc..."We are one with him," they crow faithfully.

"It's a Dog's World," an hour entertainment - documentary about canines, airs on NBC-TV Nov. 25, with Lorne Greene as host...Cliff Robertson is the guest villain on ABC-TV's "Batman" Nov. 30 and Dec. 1, portraying an ornery cowboy called "Shame"...title of the first episode is "Come Back, Shame"...Marty Ingels, talented young comedian of the "I'm Dickens...He's Fenster" series, is reported signed for at least four programs of ABC-TV's weekly Phyllis Diller show called "The Pruits Southampton."

The programs: CBS-TV's hour ballet production of Tchaikovsky's "The Nutcracker," first shown on the network last season, will be repeated Dec. 9...Jesse M. Unruh, influential Democratic speaker of the California state assembly, is interviewed on NBC-TV's "Meet the Press" Sunday...same day, ABC-TV's "Directions" starts a two-part program about the efforts being made to improve the economic and social conditions of an Apache tribe living in New Mexico.

Chamber Group Plays Sunday

The Marin Chamber Ensemble, directed by Dr. S. Drummond Wolff, will present its next concert at 4 p.m. Sunday at the Church of the Nativity in Lucas Valley.

The program will include three Baroque dances by John Blow; the "Honie-Suckle for Trumpet and Orchestra" by Holborne; The Roy Brass Music of James I for brass quartet, percussion and organ; "Purcell's Funeral Music for Queen Mary; the chorus, "See the Conquering Hero" from Handel's "Judas Macabeus."

Dr. Wolff will play J. S. Bach's prelude and fugue in E Flat (St. Anne) on a large organ lent for the occasion by Baldwin Piano Co.

Reserve Award To Be Presented

Marin County's Naval Reserve Surface Division will receive an award tonight for taking first place in 12th Naval District's competition for units of similar size and mission.

The district's chief of staff for reserve units, will present the award at 7:30 p.m. in ceremonies at the Naval Reserve training facility at 153 Madison Avenue, Santa Venetia.

The county's reserve unit of 65 officers and enlisted men outperformed 21 other units in all phases of training to win the award.

Child Discipline To Be Discussed

Dr. Joseph Gudstadt, a psychiatrist, will talk about child discipline and sex education of the pre-school child at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Manor School, Fairfax.

The discussion for parents of pre-school children will be sponsored by the Fairfax Recreation Department.

Registration for the next five-week session of the department's Tiny Tot program will be from 10 a.m. to noon Friday at the Fairfax Pavilion.

Novato Council Will Study Park Request

The Novato City Council will consider asking Marin County for up to $60,000 for the Lions Club Park at Stafford Dam when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

The Novato Parks and Recreation Commission last week asked the council to make such a request, after the board of supervisors allotted $10,000 to Gallinas Village Community Service District for a park.

The council will hold a hearing on abating a nuisance by ordering Jack Caristi to bring his rental house at 684 Hancock Street up to city safety standards.

Other items to come before the council include appointments to the technical standards committee for community television antennae, changes in the animal control ordinance, a report on extended telephone service between Novato and San Rafael and setting a date for the Civic Center committee report.

Jury Trial Slated On Forgery Charges

Fern Christine Liggatt, 18, was scheduled in Marin Superior Court today for jury trial the week of Jan. 9 on three counts of forgery.

Disposition of another felony charge, possession of marijuana, is expected at that time, according to her attorney, Carl B. Shapiro.

Miss Liggatt, of San Francisco and Kansas City, Mo., allegedly forged three checks totaling $41 in San Rafael on Feb. 23.

Progress Report Set

A progress report on Muir Beach Community Services District's application for a $200,000 state loan to connect the community with Marin Municipal Water District will be heard at 8 p.m. tomorrow by district directors at Muir Beach Tavern.

Fire Prevention An Old Story, But One Needed To Be Retold

By DOROTHEA M. BROOKS

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fire prevention. It's an old, familiar story, told over and over again.

But, it's a story of concern to every homeowner, to every apartment dweller. Read it. Heed it. It just might save your home, your family, your life.

Last year, fires took 12,000 lives and caused property losses totaling over $1.4 billion. More than 1,000 home fires blazed each day. More than half the total fatalities—6,500 lives—were lost in home fires and more than one-third of those who died were children.

Tragically, three out of four fires resulted from carelessness. They need not have happened. Firemen can put out fires—if they are called in time. Only you can prevent them.

The biggest hurdle to achieving a fire-safe home is attitude — realizing that all the talk about fire prevention applies to you and your family, not just to the fellow down the street. Once alert to the hazards of fire, it's a matter of good planning, good housekeeping and safe habits.

The American Insurance Assn., which makes available for the asking a wealth of fire prevention and safety material, prefaces its advice with rules on what to do if a fire should break out in the home:

Get everybody out of the house.

Keep them out. Never allow anyone to re-enter a burning building. Belongings always can be replaced. A life cannot.

Summon the fire department. Don't wait, thinking you can put out a fire yourself. All fires are little ones when they begin, and the first five minutes the crucial period. Fire fighting is a job for professionals.

The association urges every family to work out an escape plan in case of fire. Look the house over and figure out two alternate escape routes so that if one is blocked by flames, the the other may be used.

If there are small children in the family, older children should be trained in supervising the escape plan. Rehearse the plan regularly. Everyone in the house should be able to get outside from any room in less than a minute.

If you smell smoke, do not rush out into a hallway. First place the palm of your hand against the door. If the door feels cool, open it slightly. Pass your hand across the opening. If the air is cool, it should be safe to enter the hallway.

Close doors behind you as you leave the house to help slow the spread of fire.

If a door feels hot, that hallway is filled already with deadly heated gases. Keep it closed. Use another escape route, or wait at a window for rescue. Arouse peope by shouting.

If you live in an area where you and your neighbors may have to fight your own fires until the fire apparatus arrives, keep the following supplies on hand:

Fire extinguishers. Get those bearing the Underwriters' Laboratories label. Keep them handy. Inspect them every year and, if necessary, refill according to the manufacturer's instructions.

Ladders. Keep one or two ready for use on roof fires or in making rescues from upstairs when stairways are cut off from use.

Garden hose and buckets. Buckets should be kept filled with water and the garden hose ready to be hooked up.

Hand-operated pump tank.

Some general rules to remember:

Keep matches out of the reach of small children.

If there are smokers in the house, have ash trays in every room. They should be big, and made of glass or metal. Matches and smoking are responsible for every fifth fire in the United States.

Don't let old newspapers or trash accumulate in cellar or attic. It's combustibles like these upon which fires feed.

Be sure all electrical appliances are in working order. Any that are not functioning properly should be repaired by a qualified serviceman. Records show that every fifth fire—about as many as those caused by matches and smoking—is caused by misuse of electricity or faulty electrical equipment.

Dogs Leading Human's Death---Plush Burial

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Dogs are leading a human's death here.

There's a cemetery in the suburb of Sao Cristovao where 22,480 dogs have graves more luxurious than many human beings.

Some say that the dog is man's best friend. Some of the dog's graves are worth more than 5 million cruzeiros (about $2,300).

Unofficial statistics say that the government buries from three to six paupers a day while the same number of dogs are buried each day with candles, flowers, tears . . . and often also prayers.

The only human being working in the cemetery, a watchman with 22 years of duty there, says that he has seen people crying, fainting and even having heart attacks while their dogs were buried.

"There are some," he says, "that really get mad when I call their dogs 'dogs,' saying that there lie sons, or godchildren or friends."

Some of the epitaphs proclaim the owner's love of their dogs.

"Chiquita — my daughter denied me but you, my companion, loved me. Missing you, your mother Alaide."

"To the unforgettable Rumba, nostalgia from your little father."

"Big — you were brutally taken out from life, but alive forever in the heart of grandmother Esther."

STILL TIME TO PICK A CARD

Did Earth Shift For Single Cuba?

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A Texas Christian University scientist spent his summer leave in the jungles of Central America this year looking for clues that might show two major Caribbean islands once were one land mass.

The islands are Cuba and the island occupied by Haiti and the Dominican Republic.

The question behind the research of Dr. Jack L. Walper is whether there was, 60 million years ago, a lateral, or sideways, movement of the earth in that area. The clue is in Guatemala and nearby nations.

The islands are directly on an east-west line of a major earth fault — or slippage — in Central America, a line which shows that long ago the earth moved at least 10,000 feet vertically.

The question is: Was there also a lateral movement in this break in the earth's crust. There is some speculation to that effect. One geologist thinks the earth may have moved to the side as much as 375 miles along the break line.

If this happened, and if the fault extends eastward to the Caribbean, it could mean that the fault tore off the Cuba-Haiti-Dominican southern tip and shoved Cuba to the east, making it an island of its own.

Dr. Walper, associate professor of Geology at Texas Christian University, is not sure there was any lateral movement. His view is that no one has done sufficient study to prove any theory, and that was the reason for his Central American trip.

He was in the area 10 years ago for a mining company. At the same time, he was making a geologic map of an uncharted 350-square-mile area as part of his doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Texas.

He thus became one of the first scientists to study the fault, and he named it the Polochic Fault because it lies in the valley of the Polochic River.

Although he discovered the fault, time ran out before he could determine whether lateral movement took place at the time — about 60 million years ago.

A fault is easy for a geologist to pinpoint. Movement to the side is not as easy to pin down.

Edward Heuer, a paleontologist and an associate TCU professor, was a part of the scientific party to see if he could match up any features.

Scars on rocks show the direction of movement.

Villages are few in the area, and most inhabitants are descendants of the Mayan Indians who built some of America's great cities long before the white man arrived.

"More knowledge about the fault could cast more information about the entire face of this world," Dr. Walper said before leaving.

It could also lead, he said, to better understanding of the entire face of the world. The effect of the Guatemalan disturbance could help support or attack the theory of continental drift, an idea that all continents were once part of one or two giant land masses that broke up and rearranged themselves over the globe.

El Paso Suspends Streetcar To Mexico

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—On the morning of Jan. 11, 1902, the first streetcar ever seen in El Paso crossed the Stanton Street International Bridge into Juarez, Mexico.

An entourage of seven streetcars, draped in flags and bunting, carried a band and 330 guests.

On the morning of Aug. 14, 1966, a streetcar passed over the same bridge, minus flags, bunting and band, with only a handful of late workers aboard.

This was the last streetcar to make the international crossing for at least 10 months.

El Paso City Lines has temporarily suspended operation of what is believed the last remaining international streetcar in the United States. The suspension will continue while two new international crossings are built.

The service formerly provided by the streetcars will be furnished by motorbuses during the interim under special permission granted the company by the Mexican Commission of Communications and Transportation.

Elias Diaz, El Paso City Lines general manager, said, "The buses don't carry as many passengers as the streetcars (about 55 as compared to an estimated 90 on streetcars), but the buses will probably make the 3.1 mile run more quickly."

An estimated 200 streetcar trips were made daily into Juarez from El Paso.

Burglars Solve Medics' Problem

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (SP) — Burglars worked through the early morning hours to pull a safe from a wall at Children's Medical Center, move it to another room and crack it open.

All they found inside was an envelope with the notation: "combination to safe."

Doctors said the combination was locked inside the safe inadvertently when it was installed about a year ago and they had never bothered to attempt to open it.

Woman Surprised How Job Lasted

McCOOK, Neb. (AP) — "I heard they were hiring women at the roundhouse, I went down to get a job," Mrs. Muriel (Mert) Stumpff recalls.

That was March 16, 1943.

After the war when other women railroad workers left their jobs Mert Stumpff stayed on cleaning engines and the roundhouse pit, and later fueling and watering diesels.

When Mert finally decided it was time to give up her job recently she was a 23-year veteran of the Burlington Railroad.

Grain Surplus, Empty Elevators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Grain surplus in the United States has dwindled as storage space has increased, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, leaving empty grain elevators and just enough grain to last until the 1967 harvest.

A few years ago the government was urging farmers, cooperatives, and elevator operators to add space. Anything that could meet storage specifications was reconditioned. As the government sent large amounts of feed and bread grains overseas, grain surpluses in the U.S. dwindled. The percentage of capacity now being utilized in big midwestern storage centers ranges from 50.4 per cent in Kansas City to 9.8 per cent in Salina, Kansas.

So They Hoofed It All The Way To Jail

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) —Two sheriff's deputies got their man here recently but managed to lose their car in the process.

The officers left their car in front of a nightclub when they went inside to question a man. He ran through the back door and they followed. Meanwhile, someone inside ran through the front door and made off with their cruiser.
